Princeton and Montgomery Gird for War over State's Plans to Make 206 Four Lanes

"If the state tries to make Route 206 a four-lane road, there'll be a helluva lot of Princeton people standing in front of the bulldozers," warned Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley this week.

"It would be a second Battle of Princeton."

And he shuddered.

To make sure the state knows how Princeton and its neighbors feel about Route 206 — "to let them know we're alive and thinking about it," in the words of Township Mayor Josie Hall — the two Princetons and Montgomery Township are sponsoring a public meeting to be held next Tuesday at 8 p.m. at Princeton Day School on The Great Road.

Two key people will be present—or at least represented. One is John J. Kessler Jr., division administrator for this region of the Federal Highway Administration, who has said he'll be there. The other is Donald Goodkind, assistant commissioner for highways of the New Jersey Department of Transportation. If he isn't there himself, he has said he'll send a representative.

The meeting has been called at this time because the DOT has drawn up a contract for an Environmental Impact Study, and has said it might be signed early in November.

But communities bisected by Route 206 — also known as State Road as it goes through the Township, Bayard Lane and Stockton Street as it traverses the Borough, and once again in the Township as the Lawrenceville Road — all feel very strongly that the state's proposals for this Environmental Impact study ought to be revised.

"What's bugging the two Princetons," Mayor Cawley explains, "is that the southern terminus of this study is the Bayard-Stockton-Mercer-Nassau intersection!"

"We've repeatedly told the state this is a totally inappropriate place for the study to end," the mayor says.

As mayor of the Borough, Mr. Cawley is horrified at the thought that a four-lane ("dualized" is the engineering term) State Road would dump all its multiplied traffic quite literally into the lap of the Central Business District.

He is equally concerned about any dualization that stops farther north; for example, a four-lane 206 beginning in Hillsborough Township and stopping at the Montgomery-Princeton Township line.

"A four-lane 206 stopping at Nassau Conover Motors (the car agency near the Montgomery line on 206) and then becoming two-lane — preposterous! Route 206 is a nightmare right now. With more

Entire Proposal to Remodel High School Is Approved by School Board in 7-1 Vote

The entire $4,366,000 Princeton High School remodeling proposal was approved last week by the school board in a 7-1 vote. The "no" vote was cast by Rosalind Frisch. Robin Wallack was absent.

The action was a vote of confidence in the citizens' Bond Referendum Advisory Committee, (BRAC) whose 27 members labored under a short deadline late this summer to assemble data and reach their conclusion.

The board has said that it wants to submit the proposals to the voters in a December referendum. To meet that deadline, it must set a date no later than early November. The referendum date is not on the agenda for next Tuesday's regular business meeting, and board secretary William Evans said he thinks the board will probably have to hold a special business meeting to start the referendum machinery.

At last Tuesday's meeting, the board talked about possible reductions in the $4,366,000 proposal but in the end, left the parcel as it was presented by BRAC.

If voters approve, the renovations will convert the smaller of the two gyms and the library into an expanded library-media center. A new gym—the only new, outside addition in the plans—and new locker facilities would be built adjoining the present building. Existing gym lockers would be converted into offices and classrooms, and many existing classrooms would be upgraded, to improve flexibility and function.

In the auditorium, new seats would be installed, new stage curtains, acoustical drapes and entrance doors.

Taxpayers, if the referendum passes, will pay about two and one-half percent more in the Borough and two and one-quarter percent in the Township, if there is a five percent interest rate for the bonds and a 25-year schedule, according to BRAC estimates.

In the final sentences of its report, the citizens committee urged that "any new (school) program make the fullest possible use of existing equipment." The group also suggested that the school system raise some money by inviting the public to bid on furnishings that will not be used in the renovation.

BRAC members were Baruch Boxer, Wendell Breithaupt, Custis Clark, Pat Cleaves, Charles Cornforth, Barbara Cohen, Edward Cohen, Roger Dinella, Robert Ellis, Carol P. Herring, Henry Horowitz, Edward Kopp, Rita Ludlum, Paul Lysaker, Michael S. Mahoney, Janet Mitchell, Nancy Myers, Niels H. Nielsen, A. Terry Price, Winthrop Pike, Bill Sapoch, J. Alfred Seitz, Libby Shanefield, Chester R. Stroup, Patricia Varvel and Nick Wilson.

Borough Zoning Board to Hear Plans to Convert Station into Restaurant to Keep Dinky Running

Victoria Station will go before the Borough Zoning Board October 27 with its plans for turning the Dinky station at the foot of University Place into a restaurant, so it looks as though proposals for Saving the Dinky may be building up the steam they need to move ahead.

The Victoria Station company, based in San Francisco, would keep the present station building, but expand it to almost three times its present size. Parking for 116 cars would be provided on land behind the present Railway Express building.

Victoria Station needs a use variance to operate a restaurant in the Borough's Education-1 and 2 zones.

Receipts from the restaurant are part of the financial package assembled by the state and the citizen Save-the-Dinky Committee to provide financial support for the shuttle line.

All three municipalities involved — Princeton Borough, Princeton Township and West Windsor — have agreed to the idea of local contribution. It would amount to about $750 a year.

As a community service, the League of Women Voters of the Princeton Area has compiled non-partisan election information printed on Pages 11B-14B of this issue. Included is biographical data and replies to questions by candidates for State Senate and Assembly, (Districts 8, 14, 16) Mercer and Somerset County Freeholder and surrounding boroughs and townships committees.

In addition, there would be parking revenues from both the West Windsor and Princeton sides, a county contribution and a state subsidy. A transportation company — yet to be chosen — would operate the Dinky.

Who'll Be in Charge? The kind of agency that would hold the cash and run the operation is the next and biggest problem, Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley pointed out this week, adding that the Borough-Township attorney, Gordon D. Griffin, is investigating alternatives.

It could be a joint Borough-Township-West Windsor-West Windsor Parking Authority agency, the mayor suggested. The Mercer County Improvement Authority, which runs the buses, might do the job, or the Authority plus the three municipalities.

This agency, whatever it turns out to be, will need at least a small staff, the mayor said, including a bookkeeper, a lawyer and "other kinds of technical expertise."

Although the Authority already has a staff, the mayor indicated that he, at least, wants to be sure the three municipalities have a voice in running the operation.

Either the Borough or Township, he added, can run the parking lot planned for the foot of University Place as Princeton's contribution to the parking solution.

Another Stop Favored. Mayor Cawley has always favored an additional Dinky stop near Route One, with park-and-ride parking, perhaps on University-owned land. The state likes the idea, too, he said, but the suggestion is far down the track at the moment.

Some people have been saying the Dinky is too costly, and that buses should be used instead to get commuters from Princeton to Princeton Junction. To that criticism, Mayor Cawley replied that two buses would be needed which would mean two operators, and a lot of capital lying idle for a good part of the day.

"I can't believe you can't cost-reduce the Dinky to come close to a bus," he commented.

READY TO PARK?

Garage Work Proceeds. Final recommendations concerning parking garages are due from the Borough's consultant by the end of the month, Mayor Robert W. Cawley said this week. The most important part will be an economic analysis of parking garages, comparing short-term in-and-out parking, with all-day parking.

It will also tell Borough officials how much will depend on selling long-term leases to merchants, how to handle the present zoning requirement to provide your own parking and whether the Borough should assess property-owners who benefit from construction of the garage.

Meanwhile, in Borough Hall, they are lining up staffing needs: should there be a Parking Department? How many people will have to be hired after the garage is built? How should operation of the garage be structured?

Mayor Cawley said that in his view, there is enough leeway within the Borough's debt limit to finance one large garage.

Wine Talk by Archie Browne

WHAT IS HAPPENING TO THE CHIANTI FIASCO?

The word Chianti is to most people, synonymous with Italian wine. The familiar straw-covered Fiasco (the plural of which is Fiaschi) caught the public imagination all over the world as being the symbol of Italian wine. Rufino, who is one of the largest shippers of this wine to the U.S.A., has decided to do away with the traditional fiasco and use regular bottles instead. This is a matter of economics. The cost of the fiaschi was becoming extremely costly and the great amount of breakage of this type of packaging was also a determining factor.

Ordinary Chianti is usually inexpensive and goes wonderfully well with Italian food.

Chianti produced by firms such as Antinori, Brolo, Frescobaldi, Mellini, Nipozzano, Ricasoli, and Rufino are outstanding and a pleasure to the palate. But, you have a treat in store when you try a bottle of Chianti Classico Riserva from any of the outstanding shippers. Be sure to look for the government label showing a black cockerel in a red target which appears on the neck of a bottle entitled to be labelled Chianti Classico. You will be amazed at the difference in taste of this, outstanding wine.

Four Lanes for 206

lanes it would be worse because traffic would be more, and would move faster."

Mayor Cawley would like to see the Environmental Impact studies carried all the way to Route One.

"The southern terminus must provide through-travelers a way to get to where they're going," he observed.

This leads to talk of a bypass route.

"We want to get that 92-A by-pass off the back-burner," says Mayor Hall

An Ancient Goal. For decades, almost since the invention of the automobile, Princeton has been trying to get the state to build a by-pass that would carry heavy traffic, especially truck traffic, around Princeton.

The most recent state plans anyone has seen show a 92A going east and south along the Princeton Township-Montgomery line, crossing Routes 27, 1 and 130 to a Turnpike point just beyond Hightstown.

Another by-pass, this one going west from the Montgomery-Princeton line, is a possible suggestion.

One of the astonishing things about all this, is that ALL the communities on a "Route 206 Advisory Com-resolutions agreeing, broadly with the way this environmental study ought to be revised.

These communities--the two Princetons, Montgomery Township, Hillsborough Township--are joined in their resolve by the Somerset County Planning Board, the Princeton Regional Planning Board and the Middlesex-Somerset-Mercer Regional Study Council.

Rocky Hill, Lawrence Township, Plainsboro, South Brunswick, and the Mercer County Planning Board, are regarded as "possible future additions" to this phalanx.

The Study Council is the catalyst, and these are the suggestions proposed to the DOT by Samuel M. Hamill Jr., executive director of MSM:

They grew from a February meeting of the towns and organizations listed above, and were incorporated into a March 14 letter from Mr.
Hamill to Alan Sagner, who was DOT Commissioner at that time.

1. Make badly-needed, short-term improvements
soon. Any driver of Route 206 could pick them out: the strip south of the 206-518 intersection, leading in toward Princeton; the Belle Mead overpass; the Somerville Circle with its tangle of Routes 22, 202, and 206.

"No Need to Wait." "These things are urgent and non-controversial," Mr. Hamill observes. "There's no need to wait for a long-winded environmental analysis before doing them."

Improved left-turn controls, modified shoulders, traffic or street lights, would be all that's needed in some cases.
In Belle Mead, where the situation is more serious, there is already agreement on a design for a new alignment.
That agreement, by the way, is SEVEN years old.

2. Expand the scope of the study south, to include 92-A and serious consideration of what dualization could do to the center of Princeton.

3. Deepen the scope of the study to include consideration of land use.

Study Too Narrow. What bothers Mr. Hamill and others is that the DOT study seems too narrow. The way the DOT talks, the study would consider only half a mile or a mile on each side of the highway.

"We feel very strongly," Mr. Hamill emphasizes, "that you have to relate transportation to local land-use planning. We hope the state will hire the kind of consultant who understands land-use, not just an engineer."

"For example, would it be a good idea to dualize 206 AT ALL? You can't answer that question if the study is so narrow. We need a broad, regional study, linked to regional transportation needs.
The whole question of I-95, for example, and the 92-A bypass and the future of public transportation, like railroads and buses in the area."

Many communities, even Montgomery, are very concerned about strip development of Route 206, which has already begun in Montgomery.

Long Delay Foreseen. These three requests were detailed in a letter of March 14.

"We have never had an

A month later, in a letter of acknowledgement, Mr.
Goodkind said the state can't go ahead with limited improvements without a Federally-required Environmental Impact statement, which could take some years.

"By that time, minor needs will be major," Mayor Cawley says.

In July, Mayor Hall and Mayor Pat McKiernan of Hillsboro met with Mr.
Goodkind, who told them Federal highway officials were forcing him into the environmental study and although he sympathized with the communities, he could do little.

"Environmental studies,"
Mr. Hamill says patiently,
"are supposed to provide a way of providing information that can help the public make judgments."

"It looks as though Federal officials are being overly-literal in their reading of the regulations. Environmental Impact has already developed into a rigid orthodoxy when it could be a genuine, problem-solving device."

In a July 6 letter to Mr.
Kessler, Mr. Hamill repeated the three desires of the communities, and said, "It is important for the Federal and state agencies to listen to the local communities...."

He has not had an answer to that letter. The meeting next Tuesday, which Mr. Kessler has said he will attend, was called by the two Princetons and Montgomery to try and get some answers.

Mr. Parker of the DOT, by the way, told Mayor Hall the DOT doesn't plan dualization
"below the Princeton border."

"Those of us at the MSM Study Council would be very surprised if the collective sentiments of all these towns, in two different counties, plus the planning board of one of the counties, were to be ignored by the state," Mr.
Hamill says. "And when you think that Lawrence and possibly Plainsboro and South Brunswick might join, too--this is the kind of unity you'd think the state would jump at!"

LANDMARKS DEBATED Definition Is Vague.
"Anything from Mary Watts' store to the banks of Lake Carnegie" could be a landmark under the current definition (or lack of it) in a proposed Landmarks Ordinance, a Princeton University lawyer told Township Committee in some alarm last Wednesday.

The definition says landmarks are things with "special character, value or aesthetic interest," and the University's attorney, James Britt, found that "extremely broad." The University has a lot of things with special character, he continued, "This could be paralyzing!"

In one place, he continued, the proposed ordinance says that a private citizen can propose a landmark.

"A neighbor could propose my home as a landmark as a way of stopping something I wanted to do," Mr. Britt said. He pointed to the appeals procedure and said that the required "certificate of appropriateness" for anybody who wants to change a landmark, could drag the process on for half a year.

How It All Began.
Originally, began Township attorney Gordon Griffin, he had given the Historical Society of Princeton his own simplified version of the ordinance with the most teeth in it and the strongest constitutional framework -- the New York City landmarks ordinance.

"The Society has made the changes Mr. Britt mentioned," Mr. Griffin said drily, "emasculating the definition of 'district' so you can't tell what it is, and doing away with the 'reasonable rate of return' concept. And I agree absolutely, in regard to allowing anybody to initiate the process. The University has concerns any property-owner might have."

In this revision, Mr. Griffin said, if one historic building were designated in the Township, it could make the entire Township a "landmark."

Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley, who had crossed the municipal line to talk about the ordinance, said Borough Council doesn't want a Landmarks Commission to have final say. That should be reserved for Council, he told Committee. One landmarks district would be the whole Central Business District of the Borough.

Township Mayor Josie Hall said Committee is too busy to go around designating landmarks. Let the Commission do it, she said.

Mr. Britt said how about a landmarks list, prepared by the Commission and approved by Borough and Township.

Committee suggests. After someone suggested the site plan review committee be asked to participate and someone else said they were over-worked already, Mr. Griffin proposed a citizens' advisory committee.

"If you have a landmark and want to tear it down and build a supermarket, you'll have to go through the landmark commission system before planning your supermarket. The site plan committee deals with different issues," he said.

He also reminded Mayor Cawley that, although Council wants the final say, planning boards are gaining more and more power under the state's new land-use law.

Borough Council is scheduled to talk about landmarks at its meeting this Thursday.

which hopes to acquire more housing for black families in the Witherspoon-Jackson area, once suggested to attorney Joseph Stonaker that he and the corporation join to buy the Bovino Market property on Leigh and John, corporation officers said this week.

Mr. Stonaker wants to remodel the old market building into law offices, retaining one house on the property in its present state as a rental, and demolishing another which has been abandoned.

use variance and parking waiver, will be heard next Wednesday, October 26, at 7:30 p.m. in Township Hall.

"Our position is that we'd like to see more housing in that area and are very nervous about zoning variances," says Susan Johnson, president of WJC. She said the corporation plans to have a representative at Wednesday's hearing but has not yet decided whether the representative will comment on Mr. Stonaker's application. WJC likes neighborhood-style business more than an office, she said, and would prefer housing to both. A member of the WJC, at the corporation's request, approached Mr. Stonaker, not realizing that the lawyer was as far along as he was in negotiations to buy the property, Ms. Johnson said, adding that Mr. Stonaker told the WJC representative he'd rather not make a joint purchase, citing the complexities of residential-office zoning requirements. Not realizing Mr. Stonaker's

Bright autumn
Stay that way

Little of autumn has been bright so far, and the forecast for the rest of the week appears to fall into that pattern. For one thing, the temperature—already far below normal for October—is expected to remain that way. For another, both mid-week and weekend showers are listed as possible. "The weather map has the same patterns that prevailed during the coldest part of last winter," the Man said, somewhat ominously. He did admit to seeing the chance of a milder trend, rather briefly, before the month is out.

interest in the property, WJC had explored purchase even earlier, Ms. Johnson said.

THEFT REPORT
Persian Rug Stolen. A 4-by-6-foot Persian rug valued at $450 was one of several items reported stolen last week by Borough police. The rug and a $200 painting were discovered missing Thursday from the basement of a Pine Street home. There was no forced entry. An unattended, unlocked box office at Murray Theater on the Princeton University campus was all the invitation a thief needed to steal a metal cash box containing $137 between 7:40 and 10:30 Saturday evening.

A Princeton resident lost articles of clothing valued at an estimated $150 last week when someone removed them from a dryer at the Coin Wash, the rear of 259 Nassau Street. The weekly bicycle theft list had two entries: a 3-speed red bike valued at $75 taken from the rear porch of a Western Way home, and an unlocked $100 model stolen from the bike rack at the John Witherspoon School. While his car was parked on Spring Street, a Princeton resident reported to police early Sunday morning that his magnetic mount CB antenna had been stolen. His loss: $28.

A Princeton University student lost a $300 pocket calculator from his green knapsack which he had checked last week while shopping at the University Store. When he returned to retrieve the knapsack, it was gone.

It was later found in the lost and found department, minus the calculator which, police report, has the victim's social security number engraved on it. A Westminster Choir College student reported Monday the theft of a wallet containing $6 from an unlocked dormitory room. Ptl. William Fitch investigated.

Stereo Stolen. Township police report a stereo amplifier and receiver valued at $350 were stolen from the room of Thomas H. Kalb in 1941 Hall on the University campus.

An empty gym bag, also taken, was found later behind 1922 Hall. Entry was gained through a partially open window, police said.

Andrew Teague, 97 Leigh Avenue, told police that the vent window of his car had been forced open to steal two stereo tapes valued at $16—replacement cost for the window was $99—and that a $50 lawnmower had also been stolen from his unlocked garage.

An unlocked car parked overnight in the driveway of Carl Lindbloom, 156 Laurel Road, yielded a $100 CB radio.

CHARGES MOUNT
Alter Dorm Room Entry. Three Trenton men have been charged with five offenses, after they allegedly broke into a room in Lockhart Hall on the university campus shortly before 2 Sunday morning. Walter R. Evans, 24; John F. Miller, 24; and Larry Miller, 22, have each been charged with breaking and entering. In addition, John Miller has been charged with resisting arrest and obstructing and interfering with a police officer. He and Evans have been sent to Mercer County Jail. Larry Miller, who was arrested Tuesday morning, was scheduled to be arraigned before Judge Philip Carchman.

According to police, a university student was returning his date to her Lockhart Hall room where her roommate was asleep inside. Also present were the three suspects, two in the room and one outside. When the student tried to restrain one of the suspects, he was struck in the face by the man's fist.

Police added that the student struck back at the suspect and floored him. He was pulled off by the other two and all three fled the room. As the student was chasing them down University Place, police said, he heard an object fall to the pavement. A search by the proctors uncovered a key which led police to a parked car on University Place. It was kept under surveillance all night. Later it was towed to headquarters.

Later the same day, when the driver, identified as Evans, came to retrieve the car he was arrested. At the same time, his accomplice, identified as John Miller, was seen in the police parking lot.

FINED $250
Under Explosives Act. The McAlinden Corporation of Hopewell has paid an administrative penalty of $250 for leaving a vehicle unattended that was loaded with explosives. The announcement was made by the Division of Workplace Standards, New Jersey Department of Labor and Industry. The penalty, which was a violation of the Explosives Act, also included failure to carry the Permit to Transport Explosives on the vehicle and storage of more explosives in a magazine that was authorized by the permit.

MAN JAILED

Following Assault Spree. A Kendall Park resident is in the Mercer County Workhouse in lieu of $20,000 bail, following a spree of assaults last week, three against police officers and another against the manager of the Playhouse Theater.

Because of his behavior, Martin J. White, 21, is scheduled to be examined by a psychiatrist. He has also been charged with malicious damage to property at 184 Witherspoon Street and with breaking a $200 art object in the theater lobby.

Sgt. Ralph Procaccino and Ptl. William Hunter responded to an 11:48 p.m. call from the theater, where police found White being held by an usher. He was "under the influence, belligerent and had to be forcibly restrained," according to Chief Michael Carnevale. He allegedly assaulted the two arresting officers by shoving and spitting at them.

At police headquarters, when allowed to make a telephone conversation, he allegedly struck Sgt. Procaccino in the face with his fist. In his cell, he stuffed the toilet with clothing, causing it to overflow and flood.

He was arraigned before Judge Philip Carchman. Because of his alleged behavior in the court room, he was held in contempt of court. For the contempt charge, he received a 60-day sentence.

Police were originally set on White's trail by a telephone call at 11:30 by an occupant in an apartment at 184 Witherspoon, reporting a prowler in the lobby. When Sgt. Procaccino, Ptl. Hunter and Ptl. William Nathan arrived, they found the door splintered and broken.

TWO ARE CHARGED

With Marijuana Possession. Two men have been charged with possession of under 25 grams of marijuana and possession of a controlled dangerous substance.

The complainant against Shelton K. Acey, 19, of Newark, was Borough Ptl. William Nathan; against Frederick G. Spruell Jr., 23, of Florence, Sgt. Ralph Procaccino. In addition, each has been charged with trespassing by Princeton University security, after they were arrested in the basement lounge of Holder Hall at 3:13 Sunday morning.

In the Township, Peter C. Landy, 18, of Somerset, has also been charged with possession of under 25 grams of marijuana. Later released, he is scheduled to appear in court November 17.

Landy was the driver of a car that was observed by Ptl. Jerry Offredo and Ptl. John Clausen parked at the Princeton-Kingston Road boathouse lot at 1:15 in the morning.

Investigating, the officers detected an odor of marijuana. Landy allegedly appeared to be under the influence of the drug and was arrested. A cellophane bag containing green vegetation was found in his possession. Two passengers in the car were not charged.

Four Juveniles Arrested. Four Trenton juveniles, two 12-year olds, one 13 and one 15, were arrested Monday in front of Buxton's Restaurant on Nassau Street and charged with breaking and entering with larceny and trespassing.

They were allegedly involved, police report, in the larceny of a wallet and a Season's Bitchie Wakes from room in 1901 Hall on the university campus. They were also found to be in possession of a calculator but police said they have not determined if it was stolen. Sgt. Thomas Michaud was the arresting officer.

Runaway Caught. Sunday afternoon, a correction and parole officer from the Training School for Boys in Skillman stopped Ptl. Randy Sutton on car patrol to report that she had seen a runaway from the school on Allison Road.

A foot chase ensued and the 14-year old youth was apprehended in the area of Armour and Elm roads. He was taken to police headquarters and later turned over to officials of the Skillman institution.

The Shirt...by HATHAWAY The Tie...by LIBERTY OF LONDON

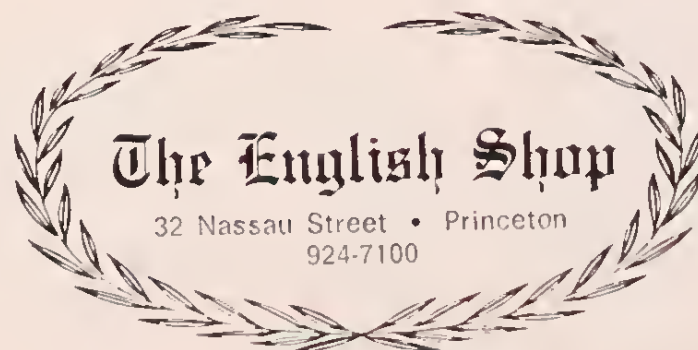

WHY NOT PUT A LITTLE EXTRA CHIC IN YOUR LIFE WITH ACCESSORIES IN BLACK & WHITE OR LIVING COLOR

We ordered these Hathaway shirts cut exclusively for The English Shop. Both the buttondown and the Wall Street Collars have half inch shorter collar points and are a quarter inch lower at the back of the neckband for a much more comfortable fit and a neater look.

And what can we tell you about the exquisite quality of Liberty of London that you don't already know...except, perhaps, to remind you of what Patrick Henry exclaimed.

Start with your own new bag. The one illustrated is convertible--the strap detaches, giving you two bags in one. Whatever bag you select, The English Shop has gloves to match. Then choose your favorites from a variety of buckles and a rainbow of belt straps. Add a glimmer of scarf for accent, and you've got it all together.

14-Year Old Jogger Raped on Elm Road; Attack Is Second in Borough in 2 Weeks

A 14-year old Princeton jogger was wrestled to the ground and raped around 7 Monday evening, as she jogged on Elm Road. It was the second attack on a female jogger in the Borough in the past two weeks.

Police are searching for the suspect, described as a black male in his early 20s, 6-2, clean shaven with a medium Afro hair style, wearing a dark leather jacket and dark trousers. He fled on foot toward Stockton Street after the attack.

Chief Michael Carnevale has requested residents in the area of Elm, Allison, Armour and Hodge roads to call police if they observed anyone fitting the description, either walking or sitting in a parked car. "Any information will be extremely helpful," Chief Carnevale said.

The victim's assailant was walking in the same direction she had been running when he reached out and grabbed her. She did not sustain any bodily injuries, Chief Carnevale reported. She was later examined at the Princeton Medical Center.

Det. Douglas Watson and Ptl. John Holcombe are continuing the investigation, assisted by a member of the Rape Crime Task Force of the Mercer County Prosecutor's Office.

Commenting on this second attack on a jogger, Chief Carnevale said that "we don't want to be alarmist about this, but we do want to apprise people in the community that crimes of this nature can and do happen in Princeton. It can take place in any community."

He added that he believed it was not good for any woman to run in isolated areas or alone. Two precautionary measures he suggested were running in pairs, particularly after dusk and in the early morning hours, and varying one's route.

"One must take whatever steps she deems necessary to guard against this situation," he concluded.

under the influence of alcohol. She was also placed on six months probation and three months AA probation. Henry Pinter, 50 Aiken Avenue, was fined $85 for possession of under 25 grams of marijuana.

In Borough traffic court Monday, six Princeton area residents were fined for speeding.

Kenneth Sokoloff of Skillman paid $32; Carmello Mauro, 26 Hillside Avenue, paid $15; Frank A. Boccanfuso, 30 Oakland Road, paid $15; Margaret Zoog, Federal City Road, Penrington, paid $43; Barbara Hare, Nelson Ridge Road, paid $16 and Harold Huckins, 56 Finley Road, paid $31. Nicholas Tamasi, 49 Erdman Road, and Alice K. Delventhal, 4 Wheeler Way, were each fined $15 for red light infractions.

Overdue inspection violations cost Robert G. Bongart, 47 Columbia Avenue, Hopewell, and John C. Biggins, 41 Spring Street, $10 each.

THREE CARS COLLIDE
On Route 206. Two drivers were issued summonses and one passenger was injured as the result of a three-car collision Saturday noon on Route 206 and Cherry Valley Road.

A car driven by Paul J. Kavchok, 34, of Trenton, left 45 feet of skid marks before it struck the rear of a car attempting to turn left onto Cherry Valley, driven by Alfred S. Smith, 25, of Somerville.

After impact, the Smith car was pushed sideways into a car stopped at the traffic light waiting to make a right turn.

The latter was operated by Edward Osuoi, 55, of Trenton. Mr. Kavechok was ticketed by Ptl. David Funk for speeding; Mr. Smith for making an improper turn. Mrs. Smith was treated for a minor leg injury. All three cars were able to drive from the scene.

Suffers Concussion. A 19-year old driver, Julia K. Gorenstein, 82 Philip Drive, suffered a concussion when her car collided with another Friday afternoon near the intersection of Quaker and Mercer Roads.

A passenger in the other car operated by Pamela D. Hoffmao, 33, of Trenton, 12-year old Nathaniel Case sustained a laceration of the face. Both victims were treated at Princeton Medical Center.

No charges have been made, pending completion of the police investigation by Ptl. Robert Nielsen.

COUNCIL TO MEET

With Varied Agenda. That Snowden Lane culvert is a "top priority item," says Borough Mayor Robert W. Cawley, in Borough as well as Township and it will be discussed this Thursday when Borough Council meets at 8 p.m. in Borough Hall.

The agenda also includes consideration of the re-leveilling ordinance, which expires December 31; the merger of Borough and Township environmental commissions, slated for the first of the year; increases in pay for members of Council; a look into the future use of the old Miss Fine's School gym behind Borough Hall; discussion of the police antenna arrangement, following the agreement with the Township, and a further consideration of the DNA question.

1-95 OPPOSED

By Freeholder Candidates. Republican Freeholder candidates Scott Reid and John Pierson have announced their opposition to I-95 in the Hopewell Valley.

Declaring that the present Mercer County administration has taken no stand on I-95, Mr. Reid said he and his running-mate will be "strong advocates for the western sections of the county on this issue."

"Allowing the turnpike to serve as the northern link for I-95 is a preferable alternative," said Mr. Pierson.

The two Republican candidates also noted what they called the county's "long delay" in repairing county roads in Hopewell.

"It is sad that Hopewell Township had to threaten secession from Mercer County before the county finally agreed to repair roads for which they are responsible," Mr. Reid stated.

"The county road department does not monitor road

'A Lamb and a Key, a Gate and a Grate' Among Clues to Treasure Hunt on Sunday

A bicycle treasure hunt of historic Princeton will take place on Sunday at 1. The starting line will form in front of Bainbridge House, Historical Society headquarters, at 158 Nassau Street.

Cyclists of all ages are welcome, but no other means of transportation will be allowed. The hunt will conclude by 4 with free cider and doughnuts at the site of the treasure.

According to Jane Pearce and Anne Reeves, organizers of the event, participants will be divided into five teams. Maps and rules will be given to the captains of each team. Boundaries of the area to be covered will be the Princeton Borough line determination closely enough," Mr. Pierson said.

BEARSE FUND-RAISER

This Sunday. An afternoon of cocktails, hors d'oeuvres, dancing and music will raise money for the State Senate campaign of Democrat Peter J. Bearse.

The event will be held this Sunday from 2:30 to 5:30 at The Hudibras on Nassau Street. Proceeds from sale of the $10 tickets will go to Mr. Bearse's campaign.

With other candidates for Senate and Assembly, Mr. Bearse will appear on public television's channels 52 and 23 this Friday at 10:30 p.m.

RYSKAMP TO SPEAK

At Library Meeting. Charles A. Ryskamp, Princeton scholar and director of New York's Pierpont Morgan Library, will be the speaker at the annual meeting of the Friends of the Princeton Public Library on Sunday, November 6, at 1.

Dr. Ryskamp has been associated with Princeton University since 1955 and is now lecturer with rank of professor in the English Department. Author and editor of works on William Cowper, William Blake, James Boswell, and Oscar Wilde, he will speak to the Friends about the Morgan Library.

The Friends of the Princeton Public Library was organized in 1961 to increase the community's awareness of its Library as well as to augment the Library's services to the public. All members are invited to this meeting at which brunch will be served. Membership application forms are available in the Library.

Reservations for the brunch must be made by October 31. Eugene Frank is president of the Friends; Mrs. A.C. Reeves Hicks serves as hospitality chairman.

Y.E.S. TO AID SENIORS

In Finding Jobs. The Committee on Aging of the plus areas of the Battlefield.

"A knowledge of Princeton may be some help," Mrs. Pearce observes, "but sharp eyes and imagination will be much more important. We hope this occasion will make people who take part in it more aware of Princeton's architecture and history. We are planning our clues to focus on aspects of the town they may not have known about or thought about before."

Possible clues are a lamb and a key, also a gate and a grate. Mrs. Pearce hinted. Assisting with clues and laying trail for the hunt are Thomas Wertenbaker and Dominic Nogar. In case of rain the event will be postponed until spring.

Council of Community Services in cooperation with the Youth Employment Service has initiated a project to help senior citizens find part-time employment.

The service, available to residents of Princeton Borough and Township who are 63 years of age and older, is the result of an effort to help broaden the range of individuals available to work, especially during the day, and to provide opportunities for senior citizens to find useful jobs and earn extra income. Primarily an agency for youth from 14 to 19 years, Y.E.S. has agreed to assist senior citizens to find employment when jobs cannot be filled by younger individuals.

Job opportunities include gardening, child care, handyman, tutoring, office work, sewing, housework, and providing companionship to the elderly. Applications for employment are made through the Council of Community Services. Forms may be mailed or picked up at the Council office, 221 Witherspoon Street, and telephone inquiries made to 924-5865.

Applications are then forwarded to Y.E.S. and will be processed in the same way that youth applications are handled. When a job request is made, Y.E.S. or the prospective employer contacts the applicant and salaries, and terms of employment are then decided between the applicant and the employer. After application has been made, inquiries regarding employment should be directed to Y.E.S. at 924-5841.

ICE SKATING STARTS

At Rink in West Windsor. The Mercer County Skating Center in Mercer County Central Park, West Windsor, is open for its third season.

Per-session cost for adults is $1.50; children under 18 and those over 60 pay 75 cents. Skate rental is available at 55 cents.

Sessions will be held every weekday morning from 10 to noon; and after school on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday from 3:30 to 5:30. Wednesday's after-school session will take place from 2:30 to 4:30.

In addition, there will be an "Adults-only" session on Tuesday evening from 8:30 to 10:30 and a special family period from 11 to 1 on Sunday. It isn't necessary for parents to skate, but they must accompany their youngsters.

Group rates are available for parties of 15 or over. Time slots are generally in the morning hours.

For further information, call the Mercer County Skating Center at 443-4204.

YWCA PLANS COURSES

For Holiday Gifts. The YWCA has planned two courses to help Princetonians prepare for the holiday season. Both are offered for five weeks beginning November 3.

International holiday cooking will include roasts and stuffings, cookies and traditional English Christmas cakes and other treats for giving or serving. The fee is $25.

The other course is holiday gifts and decorations which will help participants get started making ornaments, decorations for the home and gifts for children. This course costs $14.

For further information and to register, come or call the YWCA office Monday through Friday 9-5, 924-4825, ext. 22.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

As Friendly Visitors. The Volunteer Friendly Visitor Program is seeking additional volunteers for the November orientation program. This free program is sponsored by the Community Homemaker-Home Health Aide Service, a member agency of the Princeton Area United Community Fund, and represents a continued effort by the agency to meet the needs of homebound individuals in the community. The program is in need of persons who can volunteer one hour a week to bring "Friendship with Understanding" to the homebound. The Volunteer Friendly Visitor visits individuals of any age who, because of life circumstances, chronic illness, or physical handicaps, are alone and would like companionship. The volunteer, whose interests are matched when possible with the person visited, may chat, read aloud, play simple games and in general be a friend.

A training course for new visitors will be held on November 8, 10, 15 and 17, from 7:30 - 9:30 at the Council of Community Services office, 221 Witherspoon Street. The Homemaker-Home Health course will include such topics as understanding people and problems of the homebound, social and cultural aspects of aging, physical and mental health, the dynamics of a friendly visit and community resources.

Those who are interested and can spare an hour a week, perhaps a lunch hour, should call the Community Aide Service at 924-5862 between 9 and 3 weekdays.

PLANNING PANCAKES

In Lawrence Township. The Lawrence Lions Club will hold its 12th annual pancake breakfast Sunday morning, October 30, at the Slackwood Firehouse on Slack Avenue, just off Route 1 in Lawrence Township. Breakfast will be served from 8 to 1.

The proceeds will be used to benefit the Lions' civic and community service undertakings, including programs of sight conservation and assistance to the blind. The menu includes sausage, coffee and all the trimmings. Gus Bartaris is chairman of the breakfast. Larry Ryan is Lions Club president.

Tickets at $2.25 for adults and $1 for children under 12 are available from any Lions member or by calling 396-9204. They may also be purchased at the door.

STORY HOUR, PARADE...

At Rocky Hill Library. The Mary Jacobs Library in Rocky Hill will hold its monthly story hour on Monday from 3:45 to 4:15 for children in grades 1 through 4. The program is free.

A special Halloween party for children in grades K-4 will be presented Monday, October 31, at 3:45. There will be a film and costume judging.

For further information call the library at 924-7073.

BARN RAISING IS FOCUS

Of Townspeople Meeting. The Princeton History Project will hold its monthly TOWNSPEOPLE gathering Thursday at 3:15 in the Public Library.

Jeff Macechak will present his photographs of the daily progress of a barn raising held in August at Glencairn, a pre-Revolutionary property near Lawrenceville currently under restoration. The owners, Alex Greenwood and Cliff and Steve Zink and their friends, dismantled, transported, reconditioned and re-erected a 200-year old hand-hewn barn from Dutch Neck to replace one that had collapsed. Area residents are invited to attend the program and share reminiscences of farm life in this area years ago.

The Project has published a special edition of The Princeton Recollector in which more than 100 photographs of the barn project are accompanied by an essay by Cliff Zink on the history and technology of barn building in this area. Available at more than 200 newsstands, this autumn edition may be purchased at 50 cents. For further information, call 921-8330.

SPAGHETTI DINNER SET

By Plainsboro Lions. The Plainsboro Lions Club will hold a spaghetti dinner Saturday, October 29, beginning at 5 at the Wicoff School on Princeton Road, Plainsboro. Sittings will be at 5, 6 and 7.

The proceeds will go toward Lions Club projects such as sight conservation, prevention of blindness, aid to the blind and community projects for youth. The donation is $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for children under 12.

Tickets are available from any Lions Club member and at the Plainsboro Package Store on Schalks Crossing Road in Plainsboro.

FUND DRIVE BEGUN

By First Aid Unit. The Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad has launched its annual appeal for operating funds for its 24-hour, year-round, life-saving service to the Princeton community.

This volunteer organization has been serving Princeton and surrounding communities for more than 35 years, responding to emergency calls with the most professional equipment. Although all personnel are unpaid volunteers, they are required to undergo intensive training and to complete the American Red Cross Advanced First Aid Course and the New Jersey State Emergency Rescue Training Course.

As part of the fund-raising drive, the campaign is being publicized with a colorful folder that has been mailed to prospective contributors in the Princeton area. The folder was designed and produced by Lenhart Advertising, Princeton.

Funds are urgently needed to pay for 24-hour, 365-day a year operations, building expansion and equipment. Tax deductible contributions may be mailed to P.F.A.R.S., P.O. Box 529, Princeton, N.J. 08540.

INFORMATION AMENDED

By League of Women Voters. The League of Women Voters has said that it inadvertently omitted one candidate's views on the income tax from the League information pages 11B to 14B.

Timothy Carden, Democratic candidate for State Assembly from the 16th District, replied on the League form that he favors renewing the income tax, and would recommend a more graduated tax.

BOOK SALE PLANNED

By Stuart School. The Stuart Country Day School New Book Sale will be held Monday, October 31 through Friday, November 4 from 8 to 4. Co-Chairmen Mrs. Joel Felsner and Mrs. Donald Murphy have selected their committee which includes Mrs. Peter Mark, treasurer, Mrs. George Cooper, workers and Mrs. Jon Baumunk, publicity. A wide selection of all types of books and calendars will be available for sale in the school lobby.

PECANS AVAILABLE

From Smith Club. The Princeton area Smith College Club is holding its annual pecan sale to raise funds for scholarships. Grown in Georgia, the pecans are of the highest quality and will be sold primarily by Smith alumnae and also through some specialty shops such as Classics Limited.

The pecans come sealed in one pound plastic bags and in six pack carrying boxes. They will be sold at $4 a pound, which is partly tax deductible. To place an order, call the Smith Pecan Outlet at 924-4222 or 924-1850 weekdays from 10 to 3. Tink Bolster and Louise Bessire are chairmen of this year's sale.

RECEPTION PLANNED

By Mount Holyoke. High School junior and senior girls interested in Mount Holyoke College are invited to a reception Sunday at 2 at Maclean House, 73 Nassau Street.

Peggy Burnett from the office of admissions will speak informally and present a film on campus life. She will also meet prospective candidates Monday morning at Princeton Day School and in the afternoon at the Stuart Country Day School and the Hun School. For directions or questions, call Sandra Sharp, 896-1296.

Butcher block tops have been around a while. And been wonderful. We know. We've sold lots. But we wondered if we couldn't improve them. It wasn't an easy task, but ideas came to us. And here is the result - elegant butcher block designed and developed by Workbench.

Now it serves champagne and caviar as well as coffee and crullers.

First, we took the squared-off edges. And decided that a smooth curve would look more elegant. So we rounded the edges in what is traditionally known as a bull-nose curve. Which is an inelegant way to describe an edge that's totally curved from top to bottom. It's hard to do.

And expensive. But the result is softer, sleeker and suited to showing off fine china as well as pottery.

We mixed strips of beech and maple.

Then we decided one wood wasn't enough. So instead of using beech or maple, we mixed them to give the tops a varied pattern that we believe looks richer than any other butcher block top ever made. So even though it's equally as strong as old-fashioned butcher block, it's a lot more sophisticated.

We didn't forget practicality. Our exclusive new finish is really revolutionary.

Up to now, butcher block either had a lacquer finish - pretty to begin but apt to wear in spots - or an oiled finish - better, but not really impervious to stains. But our new tops have a revolutionary polyurethane oil finish. It looks like traditional oil finishes, but it gives the wood far more protection. In fact, it actually seals the pores of the wood and helps prevent microscopic cracks that let spilled red wine or spaghetti sauce cause hard to remove stains. So if you've always loved the practicality of butcher blocks but felt they weren't quite elegant enough for your life style, come in and see our exclusive new table tops. After all, man, and woman, cannot live on coffee and crullers alone.

Choose from 13 top sizes & 5 bases.

FAIR NEARS

At Chapin School. The Chapin Fair will be held Saturday, October 29, from 10 to 4 on the school grounds on Princeton Pike and Province Line Road.

Mrs. David Sommers and Mrs. Gary Fagen, co-chairmen, invite everyone to take a lift in a Hot Air Balloon (weather permitting), to bounce and twist on the moonwalk, and to drive and ride the Stetland ponies. Children will also find games such as spin-art pictures, tip the cat, alley oops, ouch, puck luck, and five pin bowling. Mrs. Ariel Abud and Mrs. John Tambascia are planning games for the younger children, and Mrs. Kenneth Pietsch and Mrs. Harry Oxford for the older ones.

The Christmas shop, new this year and chaired by Mrs. Thomas Davidson and Mrs.

Norman Callaway, will offer Christmas ornaments, decorations, cards, paper, bows and ties, and stocking stuffers. The silent auction, chaired by Mrs. Ralph Martinson and Mrs. David Piefly, will provide a wide range of items for bids such as a piano, one-half cord of wood delivered, French or Chinese Cooking lessons, a hand sewn queen size quilt, a variety of antiques, three horseback riding lessons, tennis lessons, a weekend at the Jersey Shore, a decorating consultation and two hockey tickets.

The Sport Swap and Buy Shop - also new this year - chaired by Mrs. Donald McDowell and Mrs. George Hutchinson, will offer outgrown skis, ski boots, ice skates, uniforms of any sport, bicycles, hockey and lacrosse sticks. This booth will feature a special one-day raffle of a $40 gift certificate from Harry's Army & Navy Store in Yardville.

Other booths include the trash and treasure shop, a book sale, green thumb and dried flower arrangements. The art corner, chaired by Mrs. William Becker will feature craftsmen performing weaving, pottery, candlemaking and glass blowing. There will also be a country kitchen of baked goods and preserves and a gourmet kitchen taking orders for hors d'oeuvres and casseroles.

Refreshments will be available all day.

PUBLICIZING THEIR FAIR: From left to right, Chapin School students Michael and Mark Fagen, Leland Jannen, Steven Maresz and Bruce Fagen hold a poster telling all that the Fall Fair will be held Saturday, October 29, from 10 to 4.

TV AUCTION SATURDAY To Benefit 4 State Channels. New Jersey Public Television will begin the third year of its Great TV Auction Saturday evening at 7 on channels 23 and 52. Other times are Sunday at 7 and Monday through Wednesday at 8.

The auction attracts thousands of viewers with the thousands of items up for bidding. Some of this year's items include a $4,500 Le Car by Renault; a $2,600 Red Squirrels porcelain sculpture from Marshall Boehm; a golf trip for two with pro Tommy Aaron valued at $3,410; a $1,000 organ donated and much more.

Co-hosts Mark London and Linda Scott will be joined by a host of celebrity auctioneers including the American humorist, Jean Shepherd. Among other items offered for bidding by home viewers via telephone are cameras from Yashica and Leica, "Oceana," a porcelain sculpture by Cybis of Trenton, an official autographed basketball from the New York Knickerbockers, two weekends for two at the Great Gorge Playboy Resort Club, gift certificates including a $1,000 "shopping spree" at Channel Lumber, cruises on the Mississippi and in the Caribbean, dinners at some of New Jersey's most elegant dining spots, Kosher catering, summer camps, birthday parties, clothing, toys and games, appliances, flying lessons, food, art and an unusual collection of antiques.

PARTICIPATION URGED

In UNICEF Day. National UNICEF Day is October 31 and will involve many helping hands, according to Steven Wright of 50 Overbrook Drive, chairman of the Halloween campaign for the Princeton area. Those hands will include the President of the United States and the host of the "Good Morning, America" show, David Hartman.

President Carter has declared, "The special emphasis you (the United Nations Children's Fund) place on meeting the human needs of children, the future leaders of the world, makes your effort that much more essential to the goal of seeking human freedom and dignity for all mankind."

David Hartman, who is also National UNICEF Day Chairman, suggests that individuals who want to help should involve their clubs, congregations, schools - young and old alike - in UNICEF benefit activities from Trick or Treat to sports benefits to auctions. "Think about children you can't see who are growing up without sufficient nourishment, education or health care," he says.

National UNICEF Day reaches into homes of all sizes and income levels for support for deprived children in over 100 developing countries in Africa, Asia and Latin America. Here in Princeton Trick or Treat will take place that day, but those who wish to start their own UNICEF fund raising activity, or want more information, may call Mr. Wright at 921-7870.

PUBLIC WELCOME

To Quilting Demonstration. A demonstration of traditional Appalachian patchwork quilting will be given by Mrs. Alberta Johnson on Wednesday and Thursday, October 19 and 20, from 1-5 at 195 Nassau Street.

Mrs. Johnson, who has been quilting for more than 50 years, is a member of the Cabin Creek Quilts Co-operative of West Virginia organized in 1970 by VISTA volunteers to provide employment for elderly rural women. The original group of six women has grown to more than 150 who all work in their own homes. Making quilts in patterns handed down from generation to generation, as well as a variety of other patchwork items. The Cabin Creek Shop in Princeton is the group's first permanent store outside the West Virginia area.

IT'S NEW To Us

BEAUTIFUL BASICS

From Edith's Lingerie. The clothes you put on first can be found in a profusion of beautiful fabrics, styles and colors at Edith's, who offers her clientele the newest and most fashionable lingerie and the best quality their money can buy.

She and her staff are all expert at fitting, particularly undergarments, for Edith feels that proper fit is very important for posture, support and appearance. There is no charge for this service.

Hostess Gowns. Edith has a superb collection of sophisticated and elegant hostess gowns that can be worn for entertaining at home or out to dinner. A graceful Banlon gown with a cowl neck falls from the shoulder into flowing sleeves and looks well on all sizes. Nude or chocolate, $70.

A Banlon caftan in pale green is pulled into flattering folds at center front and back. $110. Formfit-Rogers created a warm velvet gown with long sleeves and a round neckline enhanced with embroidery and braid, in rich blue or chocolate. Washable in Woolite. $60.

Warm and Lovely. Many of Edith's robes and gowns are designed for winter warmth. A very pretty brushed nylon robe and gown by Gossard is bright with embroidered flowers on white, Christmasy red or peacock blue. The gown, short or long, $18; the robe $34.

Vassarette has toasty long robes for junior sizes. Edith pointed out two: a brushed nylon with a shirred waist and a matching gown, in red or blue. Robe $32, gown $18. Also, a long wrap robe, very striking in burgundy piped with beige, or deep blue trimmed with light blue.

FOCUS ON FASHION: At Edith's, the emphasis is on carefully selected lingerie fashions from the very best houses. Typical of her discerning taste is this matching gown and robe in floral chiffon trimmed with black lace and presented by Edith herself.

Whether you're petite and adorable or large and beautiful, you will find comforting warmth in Vassarette's long brushed nylon robe with raglan sleeves and matching gown in brown with aqua, navy with green, maroon with white. Small to extra large.

A group of gowns by Olga is designed to keep your arms and shoulders warm out from under the covers, and the rest of you comfortable under the covers. The bodice and long sleeves are of brushed nylon, the skirts of nylon tricot. There are several variations of this style in pink, blue, white, green, peach, all lace-trimmed. $23-$25.

Clothes Liners new this year, from Olga, are most welcome. Skirt liners, pants liners and a camisole top are made from Antron III Nylon with a cozy brushed finish next to you and a smooth, non-cling outer surface. They are fashioned with two rows of lace at the hemlines, so you can cut off the bottom row if you desire a shorter length.

High Fashion and Glamorous: A very romantic gown by Olga is designed with diagonal swirls of lace and tricot. Almost like a wedding gown in white, but also yours in black or brown.

From Formfit-Rogers Studio Collection, a beautiful gown and cape made entirely of permanent pleats. Horizontal pleats form the bodice; vertical pleats fall from the high waistline. Nylon tricot in white or yellow. Gown $45, cape $20.

A Pucci print in shades of blue is coordinated in matching short or long gown or robe, bra, bikini or regular panties, half-slip. Featherweight and wrinkle-resistant, they are ideal for traveling.

Basic and Beautiful, teddies from Formfit-Rogers in lace-trimmed nylon tricot, are black, brown or alabaster $20. Other teddies, tap pants and camisoles are luscious-looking in mauve or grey-blue nylon satin, drenched with lace.

Control garments are glamorous, too. John Kloss makes a group for Lily of France called "Glossies." Golden-glinted beige stretch material in a one piece garment with a half bra. For the more mature figure, there's a one piece control garment with a seamless bra top and long or short legs, in beige.

Slip sizes are 32-46. Half slips 25"-27" waist, average or tall. Robes, junior sizes through extra large. Gowns, 32-40.

Edith's is located at 8-10 Chambers Street. Store hours are 9:30 to 5:30, six days a week. Closed Sunday.

A HAPPY RETURN

For H.R. Kalmus. A return to Nassau Street with a new and luxurious shop is just one more accomplishment for H.R. Kalmus, who began learning the trade of watchmaker as a boy apprentice aged 13.

Now a certified Master Watchmaker, he has acquired a fine professional background, belonging to the N.J. Jeweler's Association, the National Antique Watch and Clockmaker's Association and the Watchmaker's Association of N.J., where he is a member of the Board. A classic success story, based on well-learned skills, hard work and many kindnesses and courtesies to his customers.

Mr. Kalmus came to Princeton in 1950 to repair the complicated watches at The Watch Shop, 20 Nassau Street. In two years, he was able to buy the business for himself. Later, Mr. Kalmus expanded into larger quarters at 6½ Chambers Street, and served his clientele there until his recent return to 20 Nassau Street.

"We wanted to get back to Nassau Street," says Mrs. Kalmus, "and the opportunity became available. We wanted more display space in order to serve our customers better."

The Dreaming and Planning. Mrs. Kalmus started a scrapbook with a photograph of the long bare room that would become a shop, decorated with contemporary elegance for the comfort, convenience and pleasure of their customers.

Lawrence Johnson of E. Harvey Myers Associates designed the interior with display cases set at an angle from the wall. The spaces between are like private alcoves and furnished with two bent chrome chairs with brown suede-like cushions. The floor is softly carpeted with a neutral tweed. Ceiling panels of diffused light illuminate each display case.

The display cases themselves were custom made with facings in dark English walnut. Lined with a rust plush fabric, they make a rich setting for the jewelry and complement the decor of earth tones and neutrals.

The store still carries the same lines of watches and jewelry, specializing in carefully selected, fine quality

Princeton Regional School HIGHLIGHTS

Budget time is not everyone's favorite season. For some it is cutting up the pie - and showing what slices go where, to others it is cutting corners and making big decisions about repair vs replacement.

Princeton Regional School's principals have been working for some time on next year's budget, although the present year is barely underway. School budgets can cause anxious moments for all those involved in planning - as well as to parents and taxpayers. Mr. William Johnson, John Witherspoon School principal, plans to discuss with parents, staff and interested citizens just how program dictates budget in tonight's meeting at the school. It is entitled "Coffee and Conversation", during this time one can ask all the questions you might have had about budgeting at the school level, but were afraid to ask.

GIFTEO and talented workshops by EIC (Educational Improvement Center) continue on Friday, November 4 at 50 Lake Drive, Hightstown, 08520. The morning session concerns teaching strategies, the afternoon, reading strategies. Both sessions have a fee of $1.50 and registration is on a first-come, first-served basis. The final series will be held on November 28 and 29.

THE CULTURAL Impact Committee continues to plan for new events to fill PRS schedules and calendars during the school year. Last year's group initiated the effort that brings us an artist-in-residence at the middle school.

The high spot of 1976-77 was a twelve concert series programmed by Young Audiences with full funding by Princeton Bank and Trust Company. The series included programs for every elementary school, grades three to five, featuring Styra Avins, cellist and Debbie McClatchy, folk singer. The Millstone Trio appeared at Rivaldo and Littlebrook schools and a mime and clown program, "If Every Fool", was presented at Johnson Park and Community Park.

THE ANNUAL program and bicycle check held at all Princeton schools is intended to impress upon all students that responsibility goes along with the fun of bike riding. Patrolmen Mario Musso, Township Police, and Sgt. Thomas Michaud, Borough Police discussed rules, signals, and safe equipment at a recent "Bike Safety" day at Community Park School. They also assisted in showing a film, "The Day the Bicycles Disappeared", prepared by the AAA. Literature giving safe riding and walking hints was distributed at the assembly. Jay Mironov of Jay's Cycles and Martin Lombardo, Borough Councilman, also participated. In a follow-up inspection held later, approximately 80 CP students brought their bikes to school for a safety inspection by police department members. Safety check lists indicating needed repairs were given to deficient bicycles.

TWENTY-eight students at PHS have achieved Commended Student status in the twenty-third annual (1978) National Merit Scholarship Program. This honor, awarded to less than two percent of the total graduating U.S. secondary school seniors, is the result of each student's outstanding performance on the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test-National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test which was administered nationwide to high school juniors in October 1976.

Letters of commendation were presented to Deborah Callahan, Bernard Chen, Elizabeth Clark, David Eggers, Leila Elmaghraby, Eric Figaroa, Lauren Frisch, Michael Greenstein, Daniel Jaffray, Katherine Kansas, Anne Keaney, Patrick Keenan, Aboutie Kluge, Sylvia Lavin, Julie Lowin, Eric Marton, Anne Mueller, Melissa Phillips, Keith Phox, David Newton, Adela Pinch, Rachel Sieverts, Caren Silver, Richard Smith, Neil Swartz, Marian Udovitch, Anne Vial, Elizabeth Willis.

Congratulations to a commendable crew!

pieces, reasonable priced, including watches by Bulova beginning at $17.95. Others are Timex, Croton, Bel-Aire, Seiko and Bulova Accutron.

Mr. Kalmus has the largest selection of Seiko watches in the area. The watch that tells all is a Seiko Digital Quartz, LC, Perpetual Calendar Watch that given a continuous readout of the hour, minutes, seconds, day, date, A.M. or P.M. $180 in a gold finish.

Kalmus's Clock Corner has a variety of clocks - transistorized wall clocks $20 up. Cord clocks $5.95 and up. Handsome travel clocks, $12 and up. Boudoir clocks - in gold filigree-are feminine and charming and would make lovely gifts $15 and up. Desk clocks, by Wittnauer, elegant and electronic, are welcome gifts that become heirlooms.

Neck Chains of 14k gold are very popular at Kalmus, $30 and up. Pendants can be bought separately to hang on the chains and matching wrist chains are also available. Both $20 and up.

Gold-filled neck chains are $6.95 and up. Italian neck chains in sterling silver with rhodium finish are $6.50 and up; bracelets to match $6 and up.

A new line of diamond engagement rings and wedding bands are very "now." A brushed white-gold with a marquis diamond $750; wedding band $42.50. A yellow-gold ring of small round links with a star-shaped diamond $325; its mate $42.50.

Men's Fashion rings in the new pave style--little diamonds set close together in clusters or rows--look very sumptuous in 10k gold for as little as $100.

Women's fashion rings in 14k or 18k gold add grace and beauty to the hand. A cluster ring of intertwined ribbons in 14k bold holds a scattering of small sapphires. $150.

H.R. Kalmus has a seemingly endless variety of watches, clocks and jewelry. Store hours are 9:30-5:30, six days a week. Closed Sunday.

THE CHERRYS HAVE A VITAL INTEREST IN PRINCETON'S FUTURE

John Simpson

Bill and Pat Cherry have invested over 25 years working, studying and raising their three children in Princeton. They have also worked for their community in many ways. Both have been involved in Scouting; Pat is Vice President of the Delaware Raritan Girl Scout Council. Recently, she was Logistics Chairman of the International Women's Year Conference here and is a delegate to the national conference. Bill has been active in the YMCA, two church parishes, and several neighborhood, advisory and political committees. At present, he is a member of the Citizen's Advisory Committee on Housing. Bill Cherry, a scientist and inventor trained at M.I.T. and Princeton, has for years been a constructive force in his community, taking carefully considered stands on numerous issues. He is equipped to deal with the kinds of complex problems that the Township Committee must resolve now to assure a successful future for Princeton.

THE HABERS HAVE A BIG STAKE IN PRINCETON'S PLANS

John Simpson

Tom and Margie Haber are keenly interested in the goals Princeton will set and the ways it will achieve them. They decided to raise their children, Johnny and Meg, in Princeton, and are committed to taking part in community service. Tom has served the United Way in several capacities as well as the Hospital Fete and the Boy Scouts. Margie has co-chaired two Fete committees, worked for Young Audiences and the United Fund, and is active in the Child Advocacy Committee and the Littlebrook P.T.O.

Tom was trained in business management and planning at the Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania. He currently serves as a Division Controller for Johnson and Johnson. Tom wants to apply his talents, experience, and enthusiasm for the community to help make the vital planning and policy decisions that are necessary now to properly provide for Princeton's future.

Traffic Light Urged.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
When will the Princeton Town Fathers and the Trenton traffic authorities awake to the fact that a crossing light is desperately needed at Harrison and Prospect? This is the last remaining "Dead Man's Corner" in Princeton, the scene of crash after crash, and it needs attention now.

A "Stop" sign on Prospect is just not enough. There is scarcely one car which stays within the 25 m.p.h. speed limit at this crossing.

A traffic warden appears at the corner from 3-4 each day. What about the 23 other hours?

Any comparable crossing in any other town or city would have a traffic light to protect lives and property.

Is the cost of a traffic light worth more than the injury to one human being?

L.L. SNYDER

21 Dogwood Lane

Editor's Note: Like everything else, it's a matter of money -- $40,000 to $60,000 is the estimate of Borough Engineer George Olexa for the cost of traffic signals at one intersection.

The Borough obtained the required New Jersey Department of Transportation approval for a Harrison-Prospect signal and applied in 1974 for funds under the Federal TOPICS program. Before the Borough's turn could come up, the program went under.

Then, the Borough applied, with Mercer County, for Federal urban aid money and when that didn't materialize, applied on its own for Federal funds. But Mr. Olexa says he has heard that New Jersey blew all its Federal allocation in this category on one project, and has no money left.

The Borough feels that traffic signal projects are too expensive to be borne solely by Borough taxpayers. For example, reconstruction and repair of most Borough streets must be done at Borough expense because they aren't eligible for money under the Federal urban-aid system.

Besides the Harrison-Prospect intersection, the Borough applied a year ago for money to construct signals at Franklin and Harrison, and to modernize those at Harrison and Hamilton.

22.6 Percent Pledged

The United Fund-Red Cross Campaign has received pledges of $174,145.83. According to James Stewart, 1977 United Fund chairman, that figure represents 22.6 percent of the campaign goal of $769,887. The money was pledged in the first two weeks of the public campaign, which began on October 1.

The goal is the highest ever set in the campaign's 39 year history. Monies raised help support health, welfare, and recreational services in Cranbury, East Windsor, Griggstown, Hightstown, Kingston, Montgomery, Plainsboro, Princeton, Rocky Hill, West Windsor and adjacent areas of Hopewell, Lawrence and South Brunswick Townships. Last year, some 35,000 people in three communities were served.

Contributions may be sent to the Fund at P.O. Box 152, Princeton.

Township Is Shortsighted.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
It distressed me greatly to read the short-sighted remarks of Mayor Josie Hall and the Princeton Township Committee to the request for temporary help with the parking dilemma at the Princeton Medical Center. (TOWN TOPICS, Oct. 12)

For about eight months, a large part of the Medical Center parking area will be closed while the new multi-story garage is constructed. This garage will provide nearly 400 parking spaces, and, hopefully, solve the serious parking problem for some time to come.

In the meantime, the temporary loss of spaces, caused by the construction, will greatly aggravate the already very bad parking situation. With all this in mind, the hospital administration turned to the Township Committee for help. The reply from Mayor Hall, as quoted was: "We can't give the hospital what it wants, and we should tell the hospital we may pass an ordinance limiting parking on residential streets. We will enforce what parking we do give them."

I submit that these remarks are not representative of a community that raised well over four million dollars in gifts and pledges and over nine million dollars in bond issue to bring this community what may very well be the finest medical facility in the state. I submit that the people who will suffer the most will be the old and the sick who will have the problem of somehow getting to a medical facility that will become impossible to park near.

The hospital asked for temporary spaces near the Community Park pool and tennis courts. These lots are usually almost empty except on weekends, when the hospital needs would be least. The hot weather is a long way off, and surely the Township Committee and Mayor Hall can spare the swimming pool parking lot during the winter.

And anyway, is this a community that will choose to give parking to tennis players and swimmers over those in need of medical attention?

Dear Mayor Hall and the Township Committee, you may rest easy, because when you turn to me or one of my colleagues for medical attention, we will be far more responsive to your needs than you have been to those of our hospital and community.

Hunger Walk Successful.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
Please thank all the sponsors and the 300 runners and walkers from Princeton schools and churches for their participation in the 1977 CROP hunger walk last Sunday.

This outpouring of support for alleviating hunger and human distress across America and around the world indicates that there is still a strong sense of caring for others in this community.

Also please ask the runners and walkers to return their sponsors' money to the person who provided them with their envelope. Thank you.

organization of brokers in 46 states. According to Mr. Peyton, "E.R.A. offers the only true national multiple listing system with central listing files in Kansas City providing members with photos and descriptions or properties by photo facsimile equipment within minutes of any request." E.R.A. also offers a home warranty plan which is marketed as "Buyer Protection Plan" and "Seller Protection Plan."

IMPREPSED

...Which Helps Sewer Bonds. Bond-rating agencies were "impressed" with the quality of municipalities in the Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority, reported Tristram B. Johnson of Hornblower, Weeks, Noyes & Trask, this week. "They were particularly impressed with the management of the Authority, and that means Robert Harvey, the executive director," Mr. Johnson reported. The result is an A rating from Moody's and an A-plus from Standard & Poor's.

Because the Authority is a new entity without a "track record," Mr. Johnson said, the agencies couldn't rate the bonds any higher. He pronounced it a "very good evaluation." The $18 million in revenue bonds includes some $5.6 in serial bonds, yielding 4.2 percent in 1982 up to 5.5 percent in 1997, plus $12.3 million in term obligations due in 2012, and priced at 100 percent for 5.95 percent coupons.

EARNINGS HIGHER

For United Jersey Banks. Chairman Edward A. Jesser, Jr. has reported that the 1977 third quarter operating earnings of United Jersey Banks increased 11 percent to 40 cents per share in comparison with the same period a year ago. This is an increase over the 36 cents per share earned in the 1977 second quarter and represents the third consecutive quarter of improved earnings. "The continued improvement in net interest income during the quarter and throughout the year was a positive influence on the upward earnings trend. The major factors behind this improvement are the continued strong growth in consumer and residential mortgage loans and the higher commercial loan demand experienced in recent months," Mr. Jesser said. He added, "We fully anticipate that this positive earnings trend, which began in the first quarter of 1977, will continue in the months ahead." The First National Bank is a member of this holding company, which has its headquarters in the bank's building.

PUBLIC INVITED

To N.J. Bell Anniversary. An open house celebrating New Jersey Bell's 50th anniversary will be held Wednesday from 7-9 at AT&T Long Lines Department long distance switching center, 1300 Whitehorse-Hamilton Square Road, Mercerville. The public is invited for a tour of the facility, exhibits, refreshments and party favors. New Jersey Bell was founded on October 1, 1927, when the Delaware & Atlantic Telegraph & Telephone Company changed its name and simultaneously purchased the New Jersey properties of New York Telephone Company.

NEW MAGAZINE OUT Published by Chamber. Just off the press is the new Chamber of Commerce magazine, "Princeton Area Life." Filled with photographs and general information, this 56-page publication gives an over-view of history, area planning, land use, commerce, industry, education, the arts, a special business directory and an area map. Publication chairman Arthur Abrahams, president of GAMA, was given a vote of thanks by the Chamber membership at its last meeting for his coordination and supervision of the project. The book was published by Ad Ease and will be sold from the Chamber office and several member stores for $1.50. J. Robert Hillier, president of The Hillier Group, will make the opening speech at the New Jersey Convention of the American Institute of Architects on Saturday, October 28, at the Playboy Club in Great Gorge. He will speak on "New Horizons in Architectural Practice." In addition, Mr. Hillier will make the keynote address at the Texas Military Institute's Alumni Association meeting

WOMEN HELPING WOMEN...

The Princeton Business and Professional Women's Club joins 853,000 members across our nation in saluting the working woman during National Business and Professional Women's Week, October 16-22.

In the opinion of Bond Counsel to the Authority, interest on the 1977 Bonds is exempt from Federal income taxes under existing statute and court decisions, and the 1977 Bonds are exempt from direct taxation within the State of New Jersey, except for transfer, inheritance and estate taxes and taxes on transfers by or in contemplation of death, and interest on the 1977 Bonds is not includible in gross income under the New Jersey Gross Income Tax Act.

Principal and interest (interest payable semiannually on each June 1 and December 1, beginning June 1, 1978, representing seven months interest) payable, unless registered, at the principal office of United Jersey Bank, Hackensack, New Jersey, the Trustee, or, at the option of the holder, at the principal office of Morgan Guaranty Trust Company of New York, New York, New York. The 1977 Bonds are issuable as coupon bonds in the denomination of $5,000 each, and registrable as to principal only or as to both principal and interest and, if so registered, convertible into coupon bonds in accordance with the Resolution.

The 1977 Bonds are subject to prior redemption as described in the Official Statement.

Each Participant under the Service Contract with the Authority (Princeton Borough, Princeton Township, West Windsor Township and South Brunswick Township, and Hopewell and Pennington Boroughs upon notice to connect to the System pursuant to the Service Contract) is required to make payments to the Authority of Annual Charges sufficient, together with other funds available to the Authority, to pay operation and maintenance expenses and Authority debt service. In the opinion of Bond Counsel to the Authority, the Annual Charge payable by a Participant will constitute a valid and binding direct and general obligation of such Participant and each Participant has power and is obligated to levy ad valorem taxes upon all taxable property therein for the payment of its Annual Charge, without limitation as to rate or amount.

The 1977 Bonds constitute direct and general obligations of the Authority, which has no power to levy or collect taxes. The 1977 Bonds are neither a debt nor a liability of the State of New Jersey or of any county or municipality.

The Series A Bonds and the Series B Bonds are equally secured under the Resolution. The Underwriters reserve the right in their discretion to confirm orders for the Series A Bonds and the Series B Bonds on an interchangeable basis.

News Of The CHURCHES

ACTION TAKEN

At Church Meeting. The congregation of Nassau Presbyterian Church met last Sunday to consider four major items in the Church's effort to consolidate its real estate and put its financial house in order.

The congregation approved a report on the plans for the renovation of the Palmer Square Building, and work has already begun. The recommendation of the Session that the manse at 81 Westcott Road be sold and a housing allowance provided for the pastor, the Rev. Dr. Wallace Alston, was also approved.

An interim report on the proposal to transform St. Andrew's Church into a mission center was presented by the Committee which is still in the process of discussing the ways and means of accomplishing such a center. The status of the financial campaign was reviewed, and a report from the financial planning committee of the Session concerning the budgetary needs for 1978 was presented.

FLEA MARKET SATURDAY

At All Saints. All Saints' Church will hold a "Fabulous Flea Market" Saturday from 9 to 4 on the church grounds off Terhune Road.

Among the varied goods offered by local craftsmen and dealers will be some pieces of unusual interest to collectors of antique silver, linen and glass. Buyers may choose a tiny sterling silver mustard pot or a repousse sterling silver tea ball with its own saucer. A haquet-size, hand-made Belgian lace tablecloth with matching napkins, never used, is valued at $500 and offered at a bargain price.

For furniture collectors, there is an oak Secretary dating from the early 1900s, still bearing its original label of The Baker Company of Michigan and complete with writing desk, drawers, mirror and a closet a child can hide in. All of these and many other treasures of real value will be found at The Rector's table.

A GOOD PLACE TO HIDE: Mark Ollis may be looking for bargains, but he has also found a nifty place to hide behind the door in this antique secretary which will be offered at All Saints' 2nd Annual Flea Market Saturday. Co-chairmen Mrs. William Walker (center) and Mrs. Stuart Carothers look on.

Things of a more frivolous nature will be on sale at the white elephant table, where among the games, puzzles, hooks and appliances will be offered a genuine architect's blueprint for building a Hot Dog, as well as a musical sugar bowl that plays "A Little Bit of Sugar Makes the Medicine Go Down." The talents and services table will sell pots of home-made peach plum jam or the skills of someone to serve a party for you. Choice items here include two tickets to the Philadelphia Symphony for Saturday night, or four tickets to a sold-out performance of La Boheme at the Met on Friday, November 18.

The littlest angels hand-me-down table will feature good used clothing for all scholars from kindergarten through graduate school. There will be a plant sale table where one can buy an Orange tree hardy in Princeton or a Fall-blooming azalea, a bake sale, the lunch counter which will serve a hot lunch from 11 to 2:30 with coffee and snacks all day.

The Flea Market, which will be held rain or shine, is under the co-chairmanship of Mrs. Helen Walker, of Hopewell, its founder, and Mrs. Dodie Carothers of Princeton. Anyone desiring to rent a table and sell something of their own may call Mrs. Margaret Slighton at 924-4120.

TO SPONSOR SINGERS

To Pay Mortgage. Mt. Pisgah A.M.E. Church, Witherspoon and MacLean Streets, will present the Newark Boys Chorus in concert on Sunday, November 27.

Mt. Pisgah, the oldest black church in Princeton, will celebrate its 145th anniversary in 1978 and plans to have a mortgage burning on May 7. The church is sponsoring the Newark Boys Chorus to help pay off the mortgage, which is on some renovations.

The chorus was founded in 1909 by James McCarthy and is now directed by Terence Shook. It has performed with Pierre Boulez and the New York Philharmonic, Eugene Ormandy and the Philadelphia Orchestra, and Henry Lewis and the New Jersey Symphony. They have also appeared on television and in a Vatican concert under the direction of Leonard Bernstein.

All are invited. Tickets are $7 for general admission and $10 for reserved seats. For further information and to purchase tickets, call Mrs. Charlotte Gipson, 924-1507, or Mrs. Johnnie Scott in Trenton, 394-7472.

LEADERSHIP IN THE LEGISLATURE

You can expect it from a man who has provided leadership for Ewing Township, the largest community in the district. A man who really did something to keep costs down, to prevent haphazard development of housing and roads, to battle crime and to keep the state in its place. Tom DeMartin did all the things a leader should do. And for that he was re-elected by the largest plurality in the history of the township. If you are interested in leadership, you'll be interested in Tom DeMartin.

OBITUARIES

Rev. Thomas C. Ryan, J.C.D., 53, pastor of St. James Parish, Pennington and Episcopal Vicar of Mercer County, died October 17 at St. James Rectory after a brief illness.

Born in Phillipsburg, Father Ryan prepared for the priesthood at St. Charles College in Catonsville, Md., and Immaculate Conception Seminary, Darlington. He was ordained in St. Mary's Cathedral in Trenton in 1950 by the Most Rev. George W. Ahr, S.T.D. bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Trenton.

After ordination, Father Ryan served as associate pastor of St. James Parish, Woodbridge; St. Peter's in New Brunswick; Church of the Blessed Sacrament in Trenton; St. Mary's in Bordentown and Our Lady of Good Counsel in West Trenton. In 1967 he was appointed to his first pastorate at St. John's Parish, Allentown.

Appointed pastor of St. James in 1969, the same year he was named Episcopal Vicar of Mercer County. Father Ryan also served as vice-officials of the Diocesan Marriage Tribunal and chairman of the Priests' Council Retirement Committee.

He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Mary Stankus of Easton, Pa., and Mrs. Margaret Bahash of New Brunswick, and two brothers, Robert of Martinsburg, W. Va., and George M. of Edison.

Father Ryan will lie in state at St. James Church Thursday from 2 until 10 p.m. Concelebrated Mass of Christian Burial will be said Friday at 10:30 by Bishop Ahr and John C. Reiss, auxiliary bishop. Hamillist will be the Rev. James Russell, pastor of St. Matthew's Parish in Edison.

Burial will be in St. Phillip and James Cemetery, Phillipsburg, at 1. Contributions may be made to the Rev. Thomas C. Ryan Memorial Fund in care of St. James Parish, East Delaware Avenue, Pennington.

Jeffrey W. Kerr, 26, of 10 Oak Drive, Lawrence Township, died suddenly October 16.

Born in Lancaster, Pa., he lived in the Lawrence Township area for 14 years. He was a 1973 graduate of Drew University and a 1975 graduate of Rutgers University where he received his master's degree in social work. He was employed as a psychiatric social worker for the New Jersey Psychiatric Hospital in Trenton.

He is survived by his parents, George T. and Lorraine Kerr of Lawrence Township; a brother, Robert S., and a sister, Joanna M. Kerr, both at home; his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Marie Le Blond of Princess Ann, Md.; his maternal grandfather, Warren J. Snyder of Harrisburg, Pa.; and his paternal grandfather, Edward Ott of Wyomissing, Pa.

A memorial service will be held at a later date. Memorial donations may be made to the scholarship fund of the Lawrence Neighborhood Service Center in his name.

Mrs. Ruth H. Himmelsbach, 60, of 302 Hale Street, Pennington, died October 15 in Princeton Medical Center after a lengthy illness.

Born in Newark, she lived in Pennington for 57 years. She was the daughter of the late David Davies, one of the founders of St. Matthew's Episcopal Church and former mayor of Pennington.

Mrs. Himmelsbach was a member of St. Matthew's Church, historian of the parish and member of the Episcopal Church Women at the church. She was also an honorary member of the Pennington Women's Club.

Surviving are her husband, Jacob Himmelsbach; a son, David Himmelsbach of Watkinsville, Ga.; two brothers, David Davies of New Lisbon and Lt. Col. Eugene Davies, ret., of Sun City Center, Fla. and a grandchild.

Burial office and requiem Eucharist was celebrated at St. Matthew's Church in Pennington, the Rev. John Belmont officiating. Burial was in Pennington Cemetery. Contributions may be made to the memorial fund of St. Matthew's Church.

John J. Mitchell Jr., 73, of 60 Carter Road, died October 16 in Helene Fuld Medical Center.

Mr. Mitchell was an adjuster for Mercer County for 30 years before his retirement in 1964. He then worked as an equipment manager for the Rider College athletic department for five years.

Mr. Mitchell was a charter member of the Babe Ruth and Little Leagues in Lawrence Township and was active in both in their early years. He was also formerly active in the Trenton Giants Booster Club. He was born in Trenton and lived in the Trenton area until moving to Princeton four years ago.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Grace Riley Mitchell; a son, John J. Mitchell 3rd of Hamilton Township; a daughter, Mrs. Vincent Kapolka of Princeton; and four grandchildren.

Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated in St. Mary's Cathedral, Trenton, with burial in St. Mary's cemetery.

Mrs. Eleanor Weiss, 62, of Kingston, died October in Princeton Medical Center. She has lived in the Princeton area for the past 10 years and was a retired statistician at Educational Testing Service.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Barbara Sheinfeld of Massachusetts.

Michael J. Magyari, 57, of 35 Station Road, Princeton Junction died October 18 in Princeton Medical Center. A lifelong resident of Princeton Junction, he retired this September after 34 years as an engineer for the Penn-Central Railroad.

Mr. Magyari was an army veteran of World War II, serving in the Pacific. He was a member of the Princeton Junction Fire Company, the VFW Post 5700 in Hightstown, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Holy Name Unit of the Penn-Central Railroad.

He is survived by a brother, Stephen, of Trenton and four sisters: Miss Anna of Trenton; Mrs. Mary Raybuck of Grovers Mills; Mrs. Julia Weissenburger of Princeton and Mrs. Elizabeth Mershon of Cranbury.

The funeral will be held Friday at 8:45 a.m. at the Mather Funeral Home with Mass of Christian Burial at 9:30 at St. Paul's Church. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday evening from 7 to 9. Memorial contributions may be made to the Princeton Junction Fire Company.

News of the Churches

supply many anecdotes, past and present. Coffee and cake will be served following the walk at the Jewish Center.

The Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Arlo D. Duba are on a tour of Southeast Asia, where Dr. Duba will present a five lecture tour at four seminaries. He is director of admissions and director of the chapel program at Princeton Theological Seminary.

Their stops will include Tainan Theological College in Taiwan; Sekolah Tinggi Theologia GPM, Ambon, and Jakarta Theological Seminary, both in Indonesia; and Union Biblical Seminary, Yavatmal, India. This Sunday he will preach in the Syrian Orthodox Church of Madras, India, where a Seminary graduate is pastor.

Nassau Presbyterian Church will hold its first "Nassau Night" of the year Sunday at 6. Members of the congregation will bring their own picnic supper, except for beverage, and then will gather in the sanctuary for a multimedia creative arts worship service.

The Rev. Wallace Alston will perform on the guitar. The congregation will become a choir directed by Richard Loatman, and there will be banners, dancers, actors and films, as well as timpani, flute and classical guitar accompaning the organ.

The Women of the United Methodist Church, Nassau Street and Vandeventer Avenue, will conduct a rummage sale in the lower level of the church Thursday from 9-5 and Friday from 9-3. A half price sale will begin at noon Friday. A large quantity of clothing, toys and household items will be offered for sale.

The Jewish Center, 435 Nassau Street, will hold services on Friday evening at 8:15 led by Rabbi Melvin J. Glatt. The Oneg Shabbat following the Services will be hosted by Mrs. Simon Larach, Mrs. Martin Caulton, and Mrs. Gerard Nable.

On Saturday morning, services will begin at 10, and Patricia Papier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Papier, will be called to the reading of the Torah as a Bat Mitzvah. Mr. and Mrs. Papier will host the Kiddush following the Services.

"Over the Rainbow" is the theme of the Princeton Christian Women's Club's meeting Thursday, October 29, from 12-2 at the Old Yorke Inn, Hightstown. Guest speaker will be Helen Baugh, founder of Christian Women's Clubs and national chairman of Christian Business and Professional Women's Clubs. The program will also feature Rita Whiting, an interior decorator, and a musical presentation.

A free nursery for toddlers through pre-schoolers is available. Reservations are requested and may be made by calling 251-1154 or 799-1484 by Monday.

Norma and Sandra Dietz-actor and actress onstage, writer and wife off--will conduct a workshop in sacred drama at Princeton Theological Seminary on Saturday, October 29, from 10:30 to 4 in the Campus Center. Sponsors of the event, which is open to the public, are the Central Jersey Chapter of the Lutheran Society for Worship, Music and the Arts and the Seminary's Chapel Group and Speech Department. The cost is $4 for each participant.

The Pennington Methodist Church on Main Street will hold a craft fair Friday and Saturday.

Among handmade items for sale will be dried flowers, pine cone crafts, baked goods and lush plants. There will be personal gifts and gifts for the home and children, Christmas articles and a children's table. Hours of the fair will be 7-10 Friday evening--there will be free refreshments Friday only--and on Saturday from 10-public lecture Thursday, 4.

Geith A. Plimmer, G.S. of London, England, will give a public lecture Thursday, 4.

IN A MAGNIFICENT SETTING IN PRINCETON'S WESTERN SECTION Situated on a beautiful hillside overlooking Stony Brook is a lovely Princeton home with many fine features. Inside, there's a spacious light living room with raised hearth fireplace for entertaining on a grand scale, a cheerful dining room, and a delightful eat-in kitchen with pine cabinets in the colonial tradition. Just a few steps away, a rustic knotty pine family room and a downstairs powder room and laundry room. Upstairs are three cheerful and spacious bedrooms and one and a half baths. Tastefully decorated throughout and overlooking natural open space with Stony Brook close at hand for a peaceful woodland walk! The only moderately priced home in a lovely exclusive Princeton neighborhood. An excellent investment in a superb location.

TWO DOMES ARE SOLD: ONLY THE SUPERDOME IS LEFT. If you're considering a contemporary, you've got to see this superb home in a wooded setting. Inside, the imagination comes alive as the living room soars to thirty feet with a freestanding fireplace, and the dining room carefully pulls one back to rustic reality with its total redwood beamed structure leading to a redwood deck. The kitchen and family room are both neatly connected with an open window and a unique arrangement. Up the circular staircase to the master bedroom is a special thrill while a study loft at the top of the house adds yet one more fascinating touch to a truly unique experience.

$89,000

A PENNINGTON TOWNHOUSE, 1917 VINTAGE, WITH IN-TOWN CONVENIENCE AND BORDERING ON OPEN SPACE This beautifully maintained townhouse has a very special charm all its own, with a porch swing to meet the wonderful neighbors and delightful natural setting on a pretty lot that adjoins open space. The house is a charmer, with natural chestnut wood work throughout and such fine features as a built-in chestnut china closet, and chestnut bay in the dining room. In addition there's a wide entry foyer, a neat modern kitchen, a cozy study, downstairs powder room, and even a window seat off the chestnut stairway. Upstairs, are three good-size bedrooms and a potential fourth in the walk-up attic with three dormers. In excellent shape. Call Firestone today for it will be gone tomorrow.

A FIVE ACRE PARCEL, ZONED COMMERCIAL, WITH VICTORIAN HOME AND STONE OUT BUILDING. Looking for an unusual property with real commercial potential yet situated in the countryside? We've just found one, and boy is it a bargain in nearby Hopewell Township. On five of the prettiest acres you've ever seen backing up to a wooded slope is a unique Victorian home with slate roof and almost all spacious rooms downstairs. Foyer, enormous living room, huge formal dining room, pine panelled kitchen and den-study. Upstairs are six more rooms and two full baths. In the rear is a four car garage with slate roof, and to the side is a little stone house that would make a great antique shop. Available with extra acreage, but selling by itself at $107,000. Call our Montgomery office - 921-1700.

AN UNCOMMON COLONIAL Not a really old house, just old enough to have a lot of features that are sorely lacking in its present day cousins: slate roof, plaster walls and good detail throughout. Two level entrance hall opens to a very special living room with stone hearth and high ceiling framed in massive, hand-hewn oak beams; dining room with bow window and French doors to a stone terrace; big, sunny, modern kitchen, pine panelled study with fireplace, ground floor bedroom, bath, and lavatory. Three double bedrooms and two baths upstairs. All kinds of good storage space. On 3.7 beautiful acres near the Bedens Brook Golf Club. New three stall horse barn with fenced pastures. $179,900

AN ARCHITECT'S DESIGNING HAND is readily apparent in this five bedroom multi-level Colonial with loads of living space and extras. Entry hall, intriguing stairwell with balcony; step up living room with fireplace; dining room; kitchen with breakfast space; guest lavatory; marvelous winterized garden room with a pass through from the kitchen for entertaining and sliding glass doors to the outside. Lower level family room and laundry. Upstairs, five bedrooms, two baths. Excellent closet space throughout. Central air conditioning, lots of wall to wall carpeting, fire and burglar alarms. Two-car garage, garden shed. Flagstone patio with sitting wall. All on a lovely two-third acre lot in Edgerstoune backing up to the Hun School Mall. $149,500

TWO NEW LISTINGS

ELM RIDGE ROAD

Situated behind a white fence on an expansive lawn this thirty-seven year old Colonial, in the process of being renovated, backs up to a woodland, creating a very pretty, private setting. Center hall entry Living with fireplace and a sunny shelved den at one end. An open dining room-kitchen allows for comfortable, informal dining. The two car garage, accessible from the kitchen, is presently being renovated into an immense family room with a stone fireplace. Convenient laundry and a powder room on the first floor. There is storage galore on the second floor with numerous closets for clothing, linens, toys and hobby equipment. Two step-up bedrooms joined by a large bath, one cozy bedroom for a small child to adore, another bath and a fourth bedroom of larger than average size. A jewel of a house is waiting for an imaginative family who can see beyond the present upheaval of renovation. Over two acres for children to romp and a dog run for Fido.

CHERRYBROOK DRIVE

A winning combination-attractive Colonial, 1 stall barn and tack room, swimming pool and a lovely pastoral setting. Off the center hall is a large living room with bookshelves, on one side, and a sunny dining room with triple windows (a wonderful spot for plants) on the opposite side. To the back of the house is a paneled family room with fireplace, a laundry-mud room which opens to a screened porch and a workable kitchen that is spacious enough to allow comfortable family dining. Upstairs are three bedrooms, bath with double sink, a large master bedroom with bath and a dormitory room over the two car garage provides a super-sized bedroom, playroom or a quiet retreat. Full basement. Nicely landscaped acres with mature trees. Minutes from Montgomery Shopping Center, approx. 4 mi. to the heart of Princeton, country feeling with nearby neighbors.

MAJESTIC! STATELY!

This is one of Princeton's handsomest homes. Located on quiet Olden Lane on a beautiful acre overlooking the Institute lawns, the house combines a perfect blend of stone and clapboard, with steep slate roofs. This is truly an exceptional residence.

The house is comfortably sized but not overwhelming. Warm panelling, marble fireplaces and expansive mouldings highlight the gracious rooms, divided into family, living and entertainment areas. Six bedrooms with 3½ baths. Solidly built by Matthews in 1930, the house has been modernized and is in excellent condition.

A beautiful terrace combines indoor and outdoor living with unusual privacy only a few minutes from Palmer Square. See this before the open house, by appointment only, with a Henderson agent. $272,000

the largest Realtor in the Delaware Valley, is expanding into the Princeton area and is looking for dedicated sales associates.

We've been in business since 1886. Last year, we did a sales volume of $58 million.

Now we're expanding aggressively.

Into the Philadelphia Main Line. Into Bucks County.

And Central New Jersey.

The man in charge of our Princeton Junction office is Jack Burke, our vice-president.

Jack blueprinted our expansion plan. And he's looking for the kind of people he knows can make it work.

A proven sales record would be nice—but it's not mandatory. The right attitude is. And our two-week training program will get you off on the right foot.

Call or write Jack today. This is probably what you've been waiting for.

Legislative Candidates, Campaigning in Shadow Of Gubernatorial Race, Speak Out on Their Own

"You'd hardly know there as any campaign except the gubernatorial one!" an asperated candidate for the New Jersey State Legislature remarked to TOWN TOPICS this week. "The public doesn't even seem to know there IS a legislature."

Nevertheless, there is. And is legislators in the New Jersey State Senate and Assembly who will have to decide whether the income tax remains, or as one candidate put it, "self-destructs" in the.

Princeton, Hopewell, Pennington, Cranbury and Mansboro are all part of New Jersey's 14th Legislative district (along with all of Hunterdon County, Ewing and several communities in Morris County).

Voters will choose a State senator -- either Republican Walter E. Foran, now serving in the Assembly, or Democrat Peter J. Bearse. Mr. Foran lives in Flemington, Mr. Bearse in Princeton.

There are two Assembly seats to fill. Republican Karl Weidel of Pennington is running for his fifth Assembly term, with runningmate Regina H. Meredith, also of Pennington.

Their opponents are Democrat Barbara W. McConnell of Flemington and Thomas De Martin of Ewing.

Bearse a Newcomer. In the Senate race, Mr. Foran, who has been in the Assembly for four terms, is facing a newcomer to politics in Mr. Bearse. The Democratic challenger is associate director of Princeton University's Center for New Jersey Affairs.

"I think the basic question is who would best represent the district," Mr. Bearse says. "I see myself as a problem-solver who can work on the problems of everyone in the district. I have already helped one Hunterdon resident who hadn't received the help he needed from Mr. Foran.

"I believe in renewing the income-tax, but changing the formula to decrease the rates for low and middle-income families. I've found little hostility to the tax throughout the district, by the way. It benefits districts like the 14th, which are rich in kids and poor in rateables. Communities in the 14th district would be seriously disadvantaged if the tax were eliminated."

Mr. Bearse says revenue yield from the tax is far lower than projected, leaving almost no surplus for a Republican administration to use in budget-balancing, without an income-tax.

Employment Essential. Walter Foran, the Republican Senatorial contender, is in the sales organization of the DuBois Chemical Division, W.R. Grace Co.

"The gut issue is the economy -- getting New Jersey back to work," he says. He lists a variety of ways in which the state could provide school funding without an income tax.

"What's wrong with a one or two-percent across-the-board budget cut?" he asks, "or using the surpluses, or turning to the $27 million escrow account of mass transit? Why replace people who retire or leave state jobs for other reasons? There is always a lot of normal attrition."

He has also suggested a one-cent sales tax increase and a "piggy-back tax", in which taxpayers would pay, say, five percent of their Federal tax to the state. He also sees approximately $50 million in unappropriated balances in state accounts.

Both Mr. Foran and Mr.

Bearse see the growth of undeveloped areas of the district as a future challenge, with landfill areas running out, and the Mt. Laurel housing decision to meet.

A Former Ewing Mayor. Assembly candidates in both parties are people who have been around for some years in local, county or state politics.

Thomas De Martin, Democrat, lives in Ewing and practices law in Trenton. He was mayor of Ewing for a time and is still a member of Ewing Township Committee.

"When people ask me whether I favor the income tax, I ask 'Do I favor WHAT tax?' because something HAD to be done about the almost-confiscatory property tax. I just don't see how Bateman's program would work at all -- we need a broad-based tax."

Mr. De Martin would prefer a tax starting at a higher rate. "A family with two kids earning $10,000 -- it's a little harsh."

Concerned about the future growth of the 14th District, Mr. De Martin cites his experience in zoning and planning in Ewing, and suggests that his local experience would mean a closer link between him, as Assemblyman, and local communities.

Karl Weidel, Republican seeking his fifth Assembly term, is president of Karl Weidel, Inc., an insurance-real estate firm. He lives in Pennington and served one term as a Mercer County Freeholder, the first Republican Freeholder in 21 years.

As an Assemblyman, Mr. Weidel voted in favor of the income tax and he says that he supports the Bateman program of financing education without it.

"I honestly think Bateman believes he can run the state without it," Mr. Weidel says. "He is very knowledgeable about public school funding, and if he can keep the schools open without a court confrontation and keep some lid on the property-tax, I'll support his plan."

"If expenditures can't be met, however, I'd have no hesitation in supporting renewal of the tax."

"Run-away government expenditures" are the main issue Mr. Weidel sees.

A Helen Meyner Aide. Barbara McConnell, a Flemington resident, is on leave (to campaign) from her job as director of the state Division of Tax Appeals. She managed Helen Meyner's two Congressional campaigns and worked in Washington for the House Small Business Committee.

"I support continuation of the income tax," she states. "It has brought some relief to the property-tax structure, has helped stabilize the business community, brought relief to senior citizens and complied with the Supreme Court mandate. I'd like to work for more property-tax reform."

"We must plan wisely for the growth of the 14th district, and other areas. We have land use, water, garbage disposal and transportation plans, but they have no co-ordination with each other."

"People shrug off the Legislature as weak. I think we need to strengthen its standing committees, and I plan to devote full-time to being an Assembly member."

Two Bond Issues on Ballot in November

A pair of bond proposals totalling $150 million will be on the ballot this November. It's the lowest bond request in many years.

1. $120 million for the New Jersey College of Medicine and Dentistry.

2. $30 million for shore protection, and clean-up of the New York harbor.

The first includes $95 million to refinance a 1974 revenue bond with cheaper general obligation bonds. The remaining $25 million would provide $12 million to build a research wing next to Middlesex General Hospital; $5 million for an acute psychiatric care unit of 34 beds, plus radiology equipment at the Newark teaching hospital of the New Jersey College of Medicine and Dentistry and $8 million for such facilities as an ambulatory-care center in Camden.

Shore protection funds amounting to $20 million would be used chiefly to build or repair seawalls and bulkheads in the Cape May-Sea Bright area, and $10 million for the state's share of a Federal program to clean up New York's harbor. This will be matched by double the amount in Federal funds.

of Svan Nykvist moves in and out of a conventionally-staged production of "The Magic Flute," as Ingmar Bergman's conception of Mozart's opera unreels on the screen.

"The Magic Flute" will be the next Movies-at-McCarter, and will be shown Tuesday through Thursday, October 18, 19 and 20, at 7 and 9:30 p.m.
each evening. Screenings will be in 10 McCosh Hall on the campus, and individual tickets will go on sale starting at 6:30, either at McCarter or at 10 McCosh.

Singers perform the opera in Swedish. Bergman condensed the work by about 40 minutes, and has simplified the rather confusing libretto.

MIME THEATRE DUE

At Mercer County College.
The National Mime Theatre will hold a two-day residency at the West Windsor Campus of Mercer County Community College on Friday and Saturday. The first event will be a performance at 8 Friday evening entitled "Beyond Words." Admission is $3.

On Saturday morning,
Kenyon Martin, the theatre's artistic director, will conduct a two-hour master class in classical mime, exploring what mime is and how the mime actor uses precise, disciplined gestures to capture the essence of an idea. Mr. Martin is a student of Marcel Marceau and has taught mime and acting at Harvard and Brandeis universities.

A two-hour class for beginning students of mime will be given Saturday afternoon under the leadership of John Lepiarz, a graduate of the Jacques LeCoq School of Mime in Paris. Mr. Lepiarz' class will present techniques for wearing and performing under a mask.

The cost of the classes is $15.
Enrollment is limited and applicants are advised to register early. For advance registration, call the MCCC

SEASON OPENS

At Robeson Center. "Wine in the Wilderness," by Alice Childress, will launch the fall season of five plays at the Paul Robeson Cultural Arts Center (formerly The Princeton Youth Center), Witherspoon and Green Streets.

The play will be given at the Center next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 27, 28 and 29, and the following week-end on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, November 3, 4 and 5. All performances will be at 8 p.m.

Dianne Dixon will play the leading role of Tommy in "Wine," joined by Garth Latty as Bill. Mr. Latty, who appeared last year in "Mojo," is a playwright as well as actor.

Others in the cast are Bernadette Weeks Kwama Vander Puye, Stephen A. Wilson and Claude Simon. The play is a love story about a black woman of the ghetto and an artist who become involved under unusual circumstances.

As the autumn progresses, the Paul Robeson Cultural Arts Center will present Elaine Jackson's "Toe Jam;" "Mojo," by Ms. Childress; "Sugar Mouth Sam Don't Dance No More," by a former Center director, Don Evans, and Ron Milner's "Who's Got His Own."

The Center has also scheduled The Gong Show for November 19 and the Olubayo Dancers for December 2.

Early Five-Octave Fortepiano for Duo-Pianists Has Appeal as Trinity/All Saints Series Opens

Duo-pianists Bradford Tracey and Rolf Junghanns performed Sunday evening on a modern reproduction of an early five - octave fortepiano from 1785, on the first concert of the Trinity - All Saints Series for 1977-78.

The program traced the early segment of the piano four - hand literature, opening with one of the earliest such pieces, a two - movement Sonata in F Major by Johann Christian Bach (1735-1782). Two Mozart works followed, the Andante with Five Variations in G Major, K. 501, and the Sonata in F Major, K. 497. The second half of the recital contained Beethoven's Sonata in D Major, Op. 6, and Carl Maria von Weber's Six Pieces, Op. 3.

The instrument itself was in some ways the chief attraction of the evening, being something of a rarity these days. Doubtless more people have at least a nodding acquaintance with the sound and operation of a harpsichord, a more archaic instrument, than with such "halfway" pianos.

Indeed, the metallic timbre of this instrument still resembled a harpsichord more than a piano, an effect that Mr. Tracey attributed to the hard deer - leather hammers. When strips of felt were inserted between the hammers and the strings at various times by means of a knee lever, the tone was markedly transformed and approached that of the familiar piano.

Tonal Duplicity. One wonders how this effect might have been used in its day. The modern listener, familiar with both harpsichord and piano timbres, hears the instrument almost literally changing its identity. Two centuries ago, when the harpsichord was still the basic sound on a string-keyboard, and the piano less established, it might have been easier to tolerate the tonal duplicity of this instrument.

Tracey and Junghanns used this "moderator" lever rather more as a volume - reducer, for which it was less well suited. Analogy can be drawn to a violin mute, or, more obviously, a trumpet mute which, though it does reduce volume, changes the timbre so drastically that it cannot usually be used for small segments where the idea is simply to play softly. It is ideal where a tonal contrast is called for, and in some places the two pianists brought out excellent effects this way.

In one of the Mozart variations, they had the moderator on during the first half, off during the repeat, off during the second half, and back on during the second repeat. In the Weber "Marchia," the fifth of the Six Pieces, they played the opening strain with the moderator on and continued with it off, producing a dramatic increase in volume akin to adding full orchestra to an initial solo.

But when they used it for short echo effects, amid long stretches without it, it sounded more like an intrusion, and when they rounded off diminuendo phrases by "moderating" only the last note or two, they partially counteracted the intended relaxation.

Another knee lever lifted the dampers, but it was hard to discern when this was done in the reverberant hall. A third lever, called a "bassoon stop," lowered a strip of parchment onto the bass strings, simulating (so was the intention) a bassoon (but not a very good bassoon). This was fashionable in Vienna for rendering Turkish Janissary music - Mozart's "Turkish Rondo" being the most familiar example.

Limited Capability. Given the motivation for developing the fortepiano in the first place - to provide the means for a keyboard instrument to vary its volume - it was surprising to hear just how little capability this instrument seemed to possess. By far the greatest changes of dynamics were accomplished by denser or thinner scoring. The total sound grew and diminished in good musical fashion, but a harpsichord would often have been nearly as successful in this regard.

In the Mozart Sonata there were some true crescendos, not dependent on thickened texture. This was by far the most substantial work on the program, full-bodied Mozart, large in scope, harmonically ambitious, with wide-ranging moods and textures, a slow introduction, codas, and parts that now and then partook of fantasia, symphonic, or concerto style. The piece was not originally on the program, but it was a welcome substitution, both for the sake of the music and for its well executed performance.

The Bach Sonata was the least sophisticated work, little more than a good opening piece; nor were the Mozart Variations terribly pretentious. It was the Sonatas by Mozart and Beethoven where one wished for healthy fortes and sforzandos that would really break out of the texture. The Weber pieces, distinctly more relaxed and at home on the old fortepiano, displayed the expressive potential of the instrument, as opposed to the writing, more than any of the others.

Having dipped into the Weber four - hand literature at all, the two pianists might have selected at least one of the four pieces Paul Hindemith based his Symphonic Metamorphoses on, to add an extra wrinkle of interest to the program. Weber wrote his Op. 3 as an adolescent, but it is good - natured music and worth a hearing. As though they were enjoying themselves too much to let the recital conclude, the team took the grand pause toward the end of the final rondo, holding it, waiting, stretching it just a little longer - until the last phrase practically rippled off by itself.

Mr. Pratt is a graduate of the Eastman School of Music where he conducted student recitals, composers' forums and eventually all the major instrumental ensembles while still a student. In 1974, after an appearance with the Rochester Philharmonic, he was invited to participate as a Fellowship Conductor at the Berkshire Music Center at Tanglewood. There he was selected to assist Leonard Bernstein in a videotaping and recording for Deutsche Grammophon of Franz Liszt's "A Faust Symphony" with the Boston Symphony.

He was later invited to serve as assistant conductor at the New England Conservatory, a position he held for the past year. He has conducted the Conservatory Symphony Orchestra and Contemporary Music Ensemble to critical acclaim. He was also invited back to Rochester for three concerts in the 1976-77 season.

For his debut as conductor of the University Orchestra, Mr. Pratt has chosen the "Coriolan Overture" by Beethoven; Wagner's Prelude and Love-Death from "Tristan and Isolde" and "Symphony No. 6 in D Major" by Dvorak. The Orchestra is composed entirely of undergraduates and a few graduate students and is now the only resident Symphony Orchestra in Princeton.

Recital by Pianist Alexis Weissenberg Opens Annual University Concert Series at McCarter

Pianist Alexis Weissenberg presented a recital of nineteenth and twentieth century music at McCarter Theatre Monday, as the first of the Princeton University Concerts, Series I. The program began with a Prelude, Fugue and Variations by Franck (arranged from the original organ version by Bauer), Schumann's "David-feriery, passionate ones, and sbuendertaenze," Op. 6, number 7, an expansive continuing after intermission with five Nocturnes by Chopin: F-sharp major, Op. 15, No. 2; B major, Op. 32, No. 1; c minor, Op. 48, No. 1; B major, Op. 62, No. 1; and c minor, Op. Posthumous; and "Three Scenes from 'Petrushka'" by Stravinsky.

The Franck was nicely played, the opening melody a little stiffly and its return after the fugue more relaxed, which emphasized the dual character of the theme — at once stately and serene. Some left-hand octaves were clearly played with the sound of organ pedals in mind.

The Schumann was distressingly shaky at times. Of all the pieces on the program, this calls for the widest emotional range, and Weissenberg seemed not always to be in the mood. Of the seven slower dances, two were really rushed (numbers 5 and 11) and two were not sufficiently expressive (numbers 2 and 14).

The third of these may have been "underplayed" to control. The subtly varied accompaniments were always audible but never obtrusive, and there was a spontaneous fluidity throughout.

The miniature cadenzas and flourishes sparked. Five of these Nocturnes may be a large dose, but Weissenberg was in his element here and they made for good listening.

Crucial Notes Missed. The best-played dances were numbers 4, 6, 9, 10 and 15, all fiery, passionate ones, where Weissenberg took all the time he needed. But overall, and particularly in numbers 3, 12, 13 and the climax of the whole piece, the end of number 17, Weissenberg was missing far too many admittedly difficult but nonetheless crucial notes. The transition from number 16 to 17, where the mood changes from "With good humor" to "As from the distance," was shrugged off without a trace of the loud-soft juxtapositions Schumann calls for. Even where no mistakes were made, too many important notes, especially beat-locating bass notes, were inaudible — either not emphasized, or muddled by other notes or by pedal.

Intermission apparently restored Weissenberg, for his performance of the five Nocturnes was sensitive as well as secure. Although each one has some internal contrast, all are basically subdued pieces where dexterity is

ART In Princeton

TO HONOR GREENBAUM At Art Show. "The Celebration of the Arts" will be held by B'nai B'rith Women, Princeton Chapter, on Saturday evening, November 19, at 8 and Sunday, November 20, from 1 to 4 at the Grover's Mill Gallery, 164 Cranbury Neck Road in Princeton Junction. This 1977 Art Celebration will honor Dorothea Greenbaum, the noted Princeton sculptor and artist, on the occasion of the publication of her first book of drawings, and her approaching 85th birthday.

Works by the many artists affiliated with the Grover's Mill Gallery will also be displayed and be available for purchase both on Saturday and on Sunday. The Saturday evening gala preview will be open to patrons only, who are asked to donate $15 as a subscription to the champagne party. Sunday afternoon the gallery will be open to the public, at no charge for admission.

To Princetonians, Mrs. Greenbaum is most familiar as the sculptor of a Young Girl with a Bird, a joyous evocation of childhood, at the entrance of the children's wing of the Public Library. In addition to this work, Dorothea Greenbaum has been represented in the collections of the Whitney Museum, the National Collection of Fine Arts, the Rose Art Museum of Brandeis University, and the private collections of Nelson and Winthrop Aldrich Rockefeller.

The Art Show, which has become an annual event sponsored by B'nai B'rith, is being chaired this year by

BUSTRIP PLANNED To See Women Artists. Princeton Art Association will take a trip to the Brooklyn

Museum to see the first major historical survey of painting by women, "Women Artists: 1550-1950," on Wednesday, November 9.

The tour, which is open to the community, will be by charter bus departing the Princeton Shopping Center at 8:45 and returning about 5:30. The cost is $11 for PAA members and $12 for non-members and includes a tax-deductible contribution to the PAA, transportation, admission, gratuities and a snack. Participants will stop at the Frick Museum in the morning and see the Brooklyn Museum show in the afternoon.

The historical survey of women artists was organized by Ann Sutherland Harris, chairman of Academic Affairs at the Metropolitan Museum of Art, and Linda Nochlin, professor of art history at Vassar College. Included are 86 women painters represented by more than 150 works that range from 16th century miniatures to modern abstractions. The show runs the gamut from the famous role model for contemporary painters, Artemesia Gentileschi, a 17th century Italian painter, to such luminaries as Angelica Kauffman, Rosa Bonheur, Berthe Morisot, Mary Cassatt, Kaethe Kollwitz and Georgia O'Keeffe. Reservations are on a first come first served basis. Further information is available from the PAA, 921-9173. Mrs. Heinz Heinemann is tour chairman, Mrs. Minna EVENTS LISTED At Cranbury Museum. Old silver will be on display at the Museum of the Cranbury Historical & Preservation Society during the months of November and December. The Museum, located at 4 Park Place, is open on Saturdays and Sundays, from 2 to 5 or by appointment, 655-0387.

Also, on Friday, November 11 at 8 the Society will present the George Richard Browns in "The Wonderful World of Music Boxes." The Browns have a collection of 19th century mechanical musical instruments and memorabilia, and they give a music box concert of Old World melodies and Christmas music with curious Old World instruments. The program is open to the public and free of charge, and will be held in the Cranbury School Auditorium.

Business Women's Club Marks 55th Anniversary

In observance of National Business Women's Week and the 55th anniversary of the Princeton Business and Professional Women's Club, Mrs. Ethel N. Thomas has been chosen by the BPW as the Woman of the Year.

Mrs. Thomas was cited for her outstanding contributions in the field of education. Currently a counselor at Princeton High School where she is coordinator of the scholarship programs, she has also taught at Princeton High School, served as dean of freshmen and director of admissions at the Women's College, Middlebury, Vt., and was assistant professor of English at the American College for Girls in Istanbul, Turkey. Her late husband, Lewis V. Thomas, was professor of Turkish history and language at Princeton University.

HONORED: Mrs. Ethel Thomas (center) is the recipient of the Women of the Year Award from the Business and Professional Women's Club. Mrs. Helen Povalitis (left) is president, and Mrs. Gloria Seitz is chairman of the selection committee.

From its acceptance into the State Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs in 1922, the Princeton club has worked steadily toward improving the status of women. In its early years the club was active in helping to keep girls in high school, giving assistance to a rural girl, and encouraging the 1977-78 ski season. The Club welcomes all people interested in skiing from novice to expert.

The Bryn Mawr Alumnae Club will host a cocktail party in honor of Dean Nina Garsoian Sunday from 4-6 at the home of Mrs. Douglas Delaney, 62 Battle Road.

The Wellesley Club of Central New Jersey will sponsor a concert Sunday at 3:30 in the auditorium of the music building at Douglass College in New Brunswick. Jane Farnham and Louise Howe, two Connecticut concert artists, will present a duo-piano recital, playing works by Debussy, Clementi, Saint-Saens, Khatchaturian and David Barnett. The event is free and open to the public and a reception will follow.

The American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) will meet on Thursday, October 20, at 2 at the YM-YWCA. A film entitled "The Second Spring of Samantha Muffin," will be shown, followed by a discussion period. Dr. Scott T. Ritenour, vice president, will act as moderator.

business girl to continue her schooling. Vocational guidance and some job placement was given to young women in high school, and a placement service was established for BPW women.

During the early 1940's the club members became actively involved in supporting the war effort including support of recreational activities at the U.S.O. and donating to the Red Cross for comfort kits for men in service. The club invited WAACS and WAVES stationed near Princeton to be guests at meetings and offered assistance to women returning from service in obtaining employment. The club also became involved in the fight against cancer and sponsored the organization of a Cancer Prevention Center at Princeton Hospital in 1945 which became the first Center in the State of New Jersey.

The club is currently working through educational and legislative channels to advance women. Under a scholarship program which began in 1940, the BPW now awards annually several scholarships and a grant. Working women interested in knowing more about the Club should call Mrs. Sue Rightmire, days, 924-4200, evenings, (201) 359-6288.

Township Lists Leaf-Collection Schedule

"If inclement weather prohibits leaf collection...." says the Township Engineer's office, glancing warily out the window.

When it isn't raining, assuming such a day, the Township's road forces will collect your leaves with the Township's leaf vacuum provided you rake the leaves to the curb line (NOT into the gutter, as you'll recall from last year's regulations).

Leaf collection will be as follows, according to the election district in which you live:

Mon.-Tues., Oct. 24-25:	Dists. 1, 4, 14
Wed.-Thurs., Oct. 26-27:	Dists. 5, 6, 10
Fri.-Mon., Oct. 28 & 31:	Dists. 2, 11
Tues.-Wed., Nov. 2-3:	Dists. 3, 9, 12
Thurs.-Fri., Nov. 3-4:	Dists. 7, 8, 13

In case of bad weather, leaves will be collected the next day. Collections will continue each week until further notice; probably until there are no more leaves.

PS WHERE PEOPLE

Save for it?
and earn interest or Charge it?
and pay interest

More people everyday hesitate to charge purchases. While there can be good reasons to charge it, there is also the harsh reality of finance charges and interest rates. Because charging an item is really like borrowing money on time, whatever you charge ends up costing you more. And the small print on every credit card carries some hefty borrowing rates up to 18% a year.

It may be old fashioned to save up for the things you want, but it cuts down on your monthly expenses. You actually earn money while you save, especially when you save at Princeton Savings where your money earns the highest regular savings rate allowed by law, 5 1/4 % a year.

In more cases than you may realize it pays to save for the things you want... where people make the difference.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS NON-PARTISAN CANDIDATE INFORMATION

GENERAL ELECTION DAY — TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1977. POLLS OPEN FROM 7 A.M. TO 8 P.M.

PRINCETON BOROUGH COUNCIL

TERM: 3 YEARS. SALARY $750. VOTE FOR 2.

QUESTION: "How would you provide a variety of housing within the context of a master plan?"

LEONA MEDVIN, Democrat (incumbent)

27 Leavitt Lane. B. A. Hunter College 1940. Elementary School Teacher. Member of Borough Council - one year. Liaison to the Joint Commission on Aging, the Joint Recreation Board, the Housing Authority. "Providing housing to meet the needs of a diverse community must be a major goal of a responsible governing body. To achieve this, a viable master plan which concerns itself with maintaining the community's character, while providing for the housing needs of all socio-economic groups within its jurisdiction, must be adopted. In Princeton Borough, where there is a paucity of land, it may be necessary to alter zoning regulations in order to encourage private development of multi- and single family dwellings, and to allow the conversion of existing properties to residential use. We must continue to address ourselves to the needs of senior citizens for affordable housing, preferably in central locations. To achieve this, it may be necessary to provide alternatives to present parking requirements. The municipal government, while remaining alert to the increasing need for housing, must insure that development proceeds in an orderly and environmentally sound manner."

JOHN REID, Republican

26 Westcott Rd. B.S. Yale University 1941. Self Employed. Vice President and Treasurer Princeton Child Development Institute. Treasurer, Citizens Research Foundation. "Princeton Borough has very little space available for new housing. New sewer installation will be an important factor."

NELSON VAN DEN BLINK, Democrat (incumbent)

82 Linden Lane. Smith College, B.A., Cum Laude in Government. Housewife-politician. Member of Princeton Borough Council. Volunteer - Princeton Public School Libraries. "One of the Borough's strengths is its diversity, and a master plan for the Borough should provide a blueprint for the orderly development of a variety of housing. We must preserve the integrity of our existing housing stock while allowing for redevelopment where environmentally appropriate. There should be room in the Borough for both single family houses and also higher density, multi-family units and condominiums. Borough dollars for either land acquisition or parking provisions may be needed to insure new low-income housing such as the proposed Princeton Community Housing project on Palmer Square. We want Princeton Borough to be a community where all income groups can live. Careful planning can help make that goal a reality."

PRISCILLA WARING, Republican

145 Ewing St., B.S.F.S. (Political Science), Georgetown University, Washington D.C. University of Barcelona, Spain. Occupation: Vice President and Field Director, Gallup and Robinson, Inc., Princeton, N.J. Vice-President, Republican Club of Princeton (1976 and 77) Trustee, Mercer County Guidance Center (1977-) Block Captain, District 3 (1973-77) Chairwoman, Annual Fund Raising Event, Rep. Club of Princeton (1975 and 76) Candidate for Borough Council (1976.)

"The problem of providing a variety of housing in Princeton must be addressed, not by the Borough Council alone, but by the entire community, including the Regional Planning Board and Township Committee. Given a democratic form of government and steadily increasing demand, Princeton must face the hard reality that there are basically only two possible approaches to this problem: subsidize and/or higher density. The former affects every citizen through taxes; the latter requires our community to sacrifice some of the very things that make Princeton so unique. A plan of action must include 1) careful examination of what the real housing needs are at present, 2) close cooperation among the town's representatives as to what the future of Princeton is to be, and 3) the formulation-revision of a master plan that accurately reflects these findings while protecting the area from excessive pressures on the environment and services."

WEST WINDSOR TOWNSHIP COMMITTEE

TERM: 3 YEARS. SALARY: $1,200. VOTE FOR 2.

QUESTION: "Some New Jersey communities have had their zoning ordinances invalidated by the courts. What would you do to protect West Windsor from having its zoning ordinances invalidated?"

LAWRENCE J. COOPER, Republican

318 North Post Rd. Princeton Junction. Graduated Washington University (St. Louis) in Mechanical Engineering. Graduate work St. Louis University in Business Administration. Occupation: Sales Executive IBM. Member West Windsor Zoning Board, Citizens Advisory Board, Land Use Planning, Coach - West Windsor Little League, PAL Basketball, Chairman, Church Board of Deacons, Chairman, Church Nominating Committee.

"Since the new Municipal Land Use Law has been in force, the New Jersey courts have been asked to define and shape land use issues. This body of law is still evolving, even though some basic fundamentals are clear.

The way to 'protect' a Master Plan and its supporting zoning ordinances is to make certain that they both continue to adhere to sound legal precedent. This means periodic review and updating, which now are also required by law.

Our township should implement the concept of staged growth, intelligently planned and documented by a legally valid Master Plan supported by proper zoning ordinances. To this end, all of us should work with the Planning Board, Zoning Board of Adjustment and others to direct our township toward this goal. We must grow in a staged, planned way to avoid explosive expansion which could destroy West Windsor's character.

JAMES E. HUGHES, JR., Republican

61 Southfield Road, Cranbury. Graduated Pingry School, 1960, Princeton University (1964) Columbia University School of Law, 1967. Attorney (Coudert Brothers, 200 Park Avenue, NYC.) Member, West Windsor Republican Club, Co-ordinator in West Windsor for Tom Kean for Governor, Member of YMCA Youth in Government Committee 1971-1974.

Recently the courts, through a series of decisions, and the legislature, through the enactment of the Municipal Land Use Law, have fundamentally changed the rules under which municipalities may plan and zone for the development of their communities. Prior to these events there was greater freedom of choice left to each municipality as to how it might develop itself. In the new zoning environment occasioned by this law and these cases a municipality now must, to protect its ordinances, be constantly aware of changes in legislation and new court cases which have impact on its existing zoning ordinances or on its overall Master Plan. West Windsor must try to plan for its future development through a series of staged growth which balances a desire to preserve its semi-rural character with the need to meet its responsibility to develop along the guidelines set forth by the courts and the State.

NORMAN F. WASHBURNE, Democrat

16 Bolt Mar Ave., Grover's Mill, R.D. No. 1, Cranbury, N.J. 08512. B.A., University of Missouri, 1948 (Social Sciences) M.A., New School for Social Research, 1949 (Economics) Ph.D., Washington University, St. Louis, 1953 (Sociology and Anthropology) Professor of Sociology and Chairperson, Department of Sociology, Rutgers University, Newark. (Including serving as Chairperson, Rutgers University Applied Social Research Coordinating Council, Member of the University Senate and Faculty Representative to the University Board of Trustees.) Member and formerly Board Member, Princeton Community Players. Founding member and President, New Jersey Sociological Society. Candidate West Windsor-Plainsboro Board of Education. Principal Investigator, U.S. Public Health Service Study on treatment and therapy for drug abusers. Member West Windsor Democratic Club.

"I'd start with defensible ordinances that provide for balanced land use: balance between commercial development to provide new jobs, and development of housing and services for the people who will fill those jobs; balance between the needs of families with children who already live here, and the needs of young people and senior citizens who want to live here but can't. The alternative is court-imposed zoning. We do not want some judge in Trenton running West Windsor's affairs! Let's make efficient use of the professional people we employ. It's not efficient to hire one planner to develop our zoning plan, a second planner to amend it, and still a third one to defend it. The Township Committee should set policy and then let the professional people carry it out.

West Windsor is said to fear any change. But I say we do not need to fear change for the better!"

PRINCETON TOWNSHIP COMMITTEE

TERM: 3 YEARS. SALARY: $2,500. VOTE FOR 2

WILLIAM H. CHERRY, Republican

24 Dempsey Avenue, Princeton, N.J. B.S., Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Ph.D. Princeton University, New Jersey State Teacher Certification. Trenton State College. Retired Research Physicist, Computer Systems Analyst. Member, Princeton Township Citizen's Advisory Committee on Housing. Member, Republican County Committee, and Chairman, Committee on Policies and Issues.

"Any Master Plan should assure:

1. The quality of life in the community will not be depreciated unacceptably, either in Princeton as a whole, or in the neighborhoods directly affected by growth, especially considering environmental impacts, e.g.: air and noise pollution by cars; overtaxing of drinking water sources; flooding, etc.
2. Within the foregoing limits, every possible federal and State grant or assistance be obtainable.
3. Dual zoning be employed to capture profits from higher density, so help provide low income housing.
4. Land Banking with its great flexibility in choice of housing variety be available.

Special provision should be made for single and multiple family low and moderate income housing (including rental units) with relief from any consequent extra public costs for low and moderate income housing persons already living in the community."

THOMAS R. HABER, Republican

175 Bertrand Drive, Princeton, N.J. Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania. B.S. in Economics. Division Controller, Health Care Division, Johnson and Johnson. Industrial Division Co-Chairman, United Way of Central New Jersey. Project Treasurer, Thomas Edison Council, Boy Scouts of America. "If elected, my basic responsibility will be to review The Master Plan proposed by the Planning Board. A prime consideration will be the ability of the Plan to allow for a variety of housing for residents at affordable prices without reducing the quality of life in Princeton. Provision should be made to encourage appropriate housing, both proprietary and rental, for young families, single people, and those on fixed incomes. Fortunately the Planning Board is making a thorough study of the legal obligations, available techniques, and important useful data such as the Natural Resources Inventory in developing the Plan. I anticipate that such devices as density bonuses, development easements, etc., if utilized within budgetary and environmental limitations will help provide an adequate variety of housing. As a representative of the electorate I will look forward to hearing and seriously considering the constructive suggestions from other concerned citizens on the Plan as presented."

DAVID KLEIN, Democrat

6 Greenhouse Drive, Princeton. AB Brooklyn College (NY) 1939. MA Columbia University (NY) 1952. MBA program, Harvard Graduate School of Business Adm. 1945-1947. Completed three of required four semesters before leaving in 1947 to join US Foreign Service. Ph.D. candidate University of Maryland. Executive Director, American Council on Germany, N.Y. Formerly (1947-1975) US Foreign Service Officer with assignments in Mozambique, Burma, Soviet Union, Germany and Washington. I have been active in the Democratic Party and member of PCDO Executive Committee. Volunteered to serve on the Township's Zoning Board and/or the Joint Commission on Civil Rights.

"New housing has to provide for a variety of life styles, while fitting into the landscape and preserving the natural environment. As provision is made for new housing - including low and moderate income, single and multiple dwellings, and in varying densities - about 25 percent of the land should be retained in open space. Housing also must be considered in the context of land use and relation to other urgent problems. This requires careful consideration of such factors as energy, environment, traffic, community services (e.g. schools, fire fighting facilities) as well as desirable commercial facilities.

All of this argues for explicit commitment to progressive housing program as well as necessary flexibility in setting zoning requirements to assure the most effective use of land....."

CATHLEEN R. LITVACK, Democrat

61 Laurel Road. B.A. Political Science, Wellesley College, 1964. Secretary to Mary Ellen Bowen, wife of Princeton University President, William G. Bowen.

1. 1975 - Township Environmental Commission, Member and Secretary. Worked on planning Princeton Turning Basin Park. Worked effectively to replace the one-plant sewer system with the more economical and environmentally sound three-plant sewer system. Serving on sub-committee to rehabilitate Tamarack camping site.

2. 1975 - Joint Recreation Board, Member and Vice Chairman. Served on sub-committee which planned the North Side of Community Park. Serving on sub-committees for tennis court lighting and for Little League baseball field.

3. President, Princeton Community Democratic Organization - 1975. Municipal Chairman, Princeton Township Democratic County Committee, 1976, 1977.

4. Alternate member from Princeton Township to Joint Consolidation Study Committee, 1975-76.

"The Municipal Land Use Law and the 'fair share' housing decision require a revised Master Plan. This affords Princeton the opportunity to provide the variety of housing necessary to keep our heterogeneous population.

Higher density zoning in some areas is essential if our young and old, our teachers and municipal employees are to live in Princeton. Any plan must include areas zoned for cluster housing, garden and "tree-rise" apartments, and homes on small lots. These areas should include small shops. Twenty-five percent of the land in high-density areas should remain open space. For demographic, environmental and economic reasons, other areas will remain zoned for low-density housing and offices.

Princeton today has a housing mix which is similar to the above. To maintain our socio-economic mix, future development must meld past planning with present knowledge to insure Princeton tomorrow will be a place all of us wish and are able to call home."

MONTGOMERY TOWNSHIP COMMITTEE

TERM: 3 YEARS. SALARY: $1,000. VOTE FOR 2.

QUESTION: "What future do you see for the Stephen A. Warner Memorial Park?"

THEODORE F. LUBAS, Republican

Sunset Road, Skillman, N.J. Princeton High School, Princeton, N.J. Graduate class of '54. Somerset and Middlesex Counties Technical Schools. Licensed Master Plumber employed by Neuro-Psychiatric Institute. Manager Little League Baseball - 4 years, Coach Little League Basketball, 2 years, Member B.P.O.E. No. 2129, Princeton Elks, Recreation Committee service 2nd term.

"When the Warner Park Referendum was defeated by the voters, the Recreation Committee reviewed other possibilities of facilities being constructed on township owned property. After consulting with the Township Committee two new ball fields located at the southern end of Broadway off County Route No. 13 were proposed. The fields are under construction with a completion date of spring, 1978.

The Board of Education leased to the Township 14 acres for 40 years with an option to renew. Plans have been finalized for the construction of eight tennis courts to be located on a portion of this acreage. Ball fields and tennis courts were the priorities from a survey compiled by the Recreation Committee. Therefore, I can see no immediate future for Warner Park."

WILLIAM J. MILLER, Republican

Dead Tree Run Road, Belle Mead, N.J. High School, Malden, Mass. B.S. in Chemistry from Suffolk Univ. (Boston), Ph.D. from Penn State. Research Scientist, Secretary-Vice-President of AeroChem Research Labs. Board of Education, Board of Adjustment, Planning Board. Advisor, Montgomery Baseball League, Board of Directors.

"Although Warner Park is centrally located in the Township and has been made available at almost no cost, the fact remains that the property is leased and still belongs to the State. Its utilization should therefore focus on recreational activities requiring relatively small capital investment with the more complex facilities to be located on Township-owned land. Bike paths, playing fields and baseball diamonds are examples of what might be appropriate uses for Warner Park. As a member of the administration of the Montgomery Baseball League for several years, I would especially like to see some Little League diamonds built to replace the currently used fields which are on private property and some day must be lost."

MERCER COUNTY BOARD OF CHOSEN FREEHOLDERS

GENERAL

TERM: 3 YEARS. SALARY $12,000. VOTE FOR 2.

QUESTION: "What role can the county play in regionalizing such things as housing, transportation and solid waste disposal?"

JAMES C. HEDDEN, Democrat

5 Beverly Place, Hamilton Square. Graduated from Trenton School System. AA Degree Mercer County Comm. College. B.A., Trenton State College. Awarded Eagleton Fellowship Rutgers State Univ. M.A., Administration, Rider College. Member following County Boards and Commissions: Mercer Cty. Community College, Bd. of Trustees, Mental Health Bd., Overall Economic Development Commission, Council on Aging, and Environmental Protection Advisory Council.
"The County is the appropriate governmental vehicle to bring about regionalization. Problems such as housing, transportation, and solid waste disposal can best be dealt with on a regional basis. Mercer Metro Bus System presently operated by the Mercer County Improvement Authority is a case in point of that type of service. Planning on a county-wide basis will be of tremendous help in recognizing and assessing regional needs."

EUGENE V. HOWARD, Democrat

217 Kensington Ave., Trenton. Educated in the Trenton School System and Rider College. Formerly Pres. of R.A. Donnelly. Founder and five time Chairman of Heart of Trenton Businessmens Assoc., Five time Chairman Mercer Cty. Improvement Authority, served as Treasurer, Trenton Parking Authority, Formerly Chairman of the Cty's Finance Dept., Represents Mercer Cty. on five County Regional Solid Waste Management Planning Committees.
"County government must play the key role in the planning and implementation of intra-county relationships between constituent municipalities as it relates to the efficient and economical delivery of services. The new "user-pays" concept removes the need to assess areas for services they do not receive. Certain to be included on a cooperative basis are such services as solid waste management, transportation, county wide assessments, housing, referral and information, long-range planning, economic development, self-insurance and a host of others."

ROBERT BOWEN, Independent

JOHN E. PIERSON, Republican

11 Vickey Court, Trenton. Trenton State College, B.A. 1968, M.A. 1971 (industrial education) towards M.A. in Ed. Administration. Instructor N.J. School for the Deaf since 1968. Member Hamilton Jaycees. Former municipal chairman American Cancer Society. Y. Award. Campaign organizer for School Board and municipal campaigns.
"Housing is a sensitive issue. Attempts elsewhere to develop a regionalized housing authority in my opinion housing problems are best resolved at a municipal level with county advisory role. I firmly believe regionalization can be an important tool towards solving municipal problems. However, I do not embrace a blanket plan for regionalization."

SCOTT REID, Republican

26 Westcott Rd., Princeton. University of North Carolina, B.A. History and Geography. School of Law, J.D. 1976. Attorney. Community legal services while in Law School. Active in local sports activities.
"I support many forms of regionalization, but only in a rational form that does not strip power from the County's power at the expense of the municipalities. The County is clearly the proper body to deal with regional transportation needs. This should be aggressively promoted, but I would like to see the use of smaller commuter traveled runs. The present car pooling efforts are laudable, but they may result in downtown Trenton. The County should clearly operate a central waste disposal system, like Burlington. Decent and adequate housing is a right of all citizens. It is also a sensitive issue favor local control of housing decisions, with the County taking only an advisory role."

Secretary-Treasurer of Burlington County Chapter of American Academy of Family Physicians.
"I favor renewal of the state income tax package. It has brought an end to years of increasing property taxes. It was enacted primarily as a means of funding public education. It reduces the amount of money for education that needs to be raised from local property taxes. I am against an increase in the sales tax, or the application of the sales tax to food and clothing. I favor continuing to use the income tax revenue for property tax relief."

"The State budget must be cut. The Minority Party in the Legislature recommended reductions and use of existing funds totaling more than $250 million. A strong economic recovery program will produce greater revenue from the sales tax and, combined with budget cuts, will be sufficient to avoid fiscal chaos when the income tax expires next June. We should also seek help from Washington, D.C. for the economy."

"The State budget can and must be reduced. The minority representation on the Joint Appropriations Committee and in the Assembly offered specific spending cuts and utilization of existing funds totaling more than $250 million, but all proposals were rejected. If we move toward creating a climate more conducive to industrial development the economy will most certainly improve, thus producing greater revenue from the sales tax. Coupled with budget cuts, I feel that these two factors will be sufficient to withstand any fiscal difficulty when the income tax expires in June, 1978. We should also look to Washington, D.C., to take firm, definitive steps to help the economy."

GENERAL ELECTION DAY — TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1977. POLLS OPEN FROM 7 A.M. TO 8 P.M.

STATE-WIDE PUBLIC QUESTIONS — VOTE YES OR NO
NEW JERSEY BOND ISSUES

Bonds are commonly used to finance public programs or projects when the life of the project is measured over a period of years and it is reasonable therefore to expect future as well as present taxpayers to pay for these costs. There are two basic types of bonds: general obligation and revenue bonds. General obligation bonds require voter approval and carry the full faith and credit of the state behind them. The interest and principal are paid out of the general treasury over a period of years. Revenue bonds are issued by special authorities or agencies and the debt is paid from the revenue produced by the projects. New Jersey voters this November will be asked to vote for or against two separate general obligation bond issues totaling $150 million.

1977 BEACHES AND HARBORS BOND ISSUE Shall the act entitled "An act to authorize the creation of a debt of the State of New Jersey by the issuance of bonds of the State in aggregate principal amount of $30,000,000.00 for the purposes of researching, planning, acquiring, developing, constructing and maintaining beach and harbor restoration, maintenance and protection facilities, projects and programs; providing the ways and means to pay the interest of such debt and also to pay and discharge the principal thereof; and providing for the submission of this act to the people at a general election; and providing an appropriation therefor" be approved?

Explanation: Funds would be provided to municipalities on a matching basis to develop, construct and maintain beach restoration, maintenance and protection facilities. The bill would fund a 5-year capital program for beach and harbor facilities. Provision is made for yearly state executive and legislative review of proposed plans and evaluation of expenditures.

MEDICAL EDUCATION BOND ISSUE Shall the act entitled "An act authorizing the creation of a debt of the State of New Jersey by issuance of bonds of the State in the sum of $120,000,000.00 for medical education facilities, their construction, reconstruction, development, extension, improvement, rehabilitation, refinancing and equipment; providing the ways and means to pay the interest of said debt, and also to pay and discharge the principal thereof; and providing for the submission of this act to the people at a general election; and providing an appropriation therefor" be approved?

Explanation: Part of this bond issue would be used for refinancing the teaching hospital project of the College of Medicine and Dentistry of New Jersey to reduce the interest cost. An amount of the bond issue would be used for the construction of additional hospital and medical education facilities, the costs to be offset in whole or in part by these savings. It is expected that $25,000,000.00 will be available for the construction of new medical education facilities and $95,000,000.00 will be used for the refinancing.

Ms. McConnell supports "sunset" legislation. This would provide cut-off times for regulations or agencies.

Law Practice Here. Another supporter of "sunset" laws is Regina Meredith, Republican Assembly candidate. Mrs. Meredith, a Pennington resident, practices law in Princeton and was the first woman elected Mercer County Freeholder. She is Republican State Committeewoman from Mercer County.

"The entire economy and lack of action in New Jersey is the true issue," Mrs. Meredith says. "Governor Byrne has apparently completely lost credibility with the people, and I hear this throughout the district."

"The thorough-and-efficient law must be amended in terms of its administration and paper-work. The idea is good: people are upset that high-school graduates don't even have an eight-grade education."

"The Bateman plan pulls in the amount of money required - about $400 to $600 million, trimming the obvious fat, using the yearly surpluses of the last ten years. The school population, after all, is decreasing."

"We must cut the budget and take a more business-oriented approach to government."

Society will start its season with a lecture by Mrs. Constance Greiff on "A House Called Morven," Thursday at 8 in the Convocation Room of the Engineering Quadrangle on Olden Street.

Mrs. Greiff, an architectural historian, is currently working on the revision of a book titled "A House Called Morven" written a number of years ago by Princeton author Alfred Hoyt Bill. A new chapter on architecture will be added by Mrs. Greiff for the revised edition, which will be published by Princeton University Press. Mrs. Greiff's other books include "Princeton Architecture" and "Lost America."

Morven, today the official residence of the Governor of New Jersey, was the 18th-century home of patriot Richard Stockton, signer of the Declaration of Independence, whose family were early settlers of the Princeton area. The theme of this year's series, Old Houses in Princeton, was inspired by the enthusiastic response to the Preservation Conference on Old Houses in New Jersey, sponsored by the Historical Society last April. Other Princeton houses to be discussed include Guernsey Hall, the recently relocated William Street Houses, Tusculum, Glencairn, and Drumthwacket. Admission is free, and all are welcome.

40th REUNION NEARS

For PHS Class. The Class of 1937 at Princeton High School will celebrate its 40th Reunion on December 3 at the Nassau Inn. A cocktail hour will be held at 7, dinner at 8 with music and dancing until 12 midnight. Any classmate who has not received an announcement should contact Ralph Hulit, Sr. at Hulit's Shoe Store, 140 Nassau Street.

F.I.F. FOR CHILDREN

At Public Library. The Public Library invites children ages 6-12 to a new series of programs called Finally It's Friday (any resemblance to the adult T.G.I.F. is purely intentional). Films, story hours and a book discussion group are planned to take a youngster's mind off the taxing week just passed.

The program will begin this Friday at 3:30 with the showing of "Ghosts and Ghouls." Thereafter, on the first Friday of each month, there will be a story hour designed for first through fourth graders. Book Break discussion group led by Dudley Carlson will take place on the second Friday (postponed until December 9 because of the Veteran's Day holiday in November) and films will be shown on the third.

SHOP FOR CHRISTMAS

At Harpies Bazaar. For those who want to get a head start on Christmas shopping, there will be a wide range of imaginative gifts available at Harpies Bazaar, a two-day affair planned for Tuesday and Wednesday, October 25 and 26, at the home of Wendy Hopper.

Custom orders are encouraged and the nine shops showing their wares specialize in pleasing individual tastes. Needlepoint by Pamela Woodward's "Treehouse" features handpainted clogs, aprons, rugs and pillows.

Tina's children's clothes will have sundresses, overalls and bikinis among the items that will be available in distinctive fabrics with whimsical appliques. Orders will be taken. Exquisite silk flowers by "Nancy and Nina" will be shown in several arrangements and moods. Nancy Kramer and Nina Jackson will be happy to custom make an arrangement to a specific color scheme.

For the sports-minded person, "Serves You Right" will have several selections. Susie McCabe and Rita McDowell will have everything from paddle hats to golf and tennis cookbooks "Martha's Bag" (Martha Vaughn) and "Merrimade" (Jean Wilson) will display an assortment of personalized paper items such as stationery, invitations, napkins, matches and playing cards.

Custom costume jewelry, belts, frames and accessories as well as ultrasuede handbags, bridge tablecovers and dresses by "Mikey" can be found at Wendy Hopper's "Piggy Bank." Mrs. Hopper has taken over the Jewels Fargo merchandise from Mrs. Vaughn.

Paintings all done in miniature and primitive style will be offered by Lee Tetzeli. She does mostly commission work.

"The Greenholm Gourmet" will offer samples of their unusual recipes. Judy Kingsford and Connie Shoemaker will also explain their monthly newsletter, "Fresh Ideas." If you wish to be on the invitation list please call Mrs. Hopper at 924-0947.

The Most interesting thing about is Interest.

Bank-by-Phone is a new service from Princeton Bank and Trust Company that lets you transfer money to your checking account from your savings account by phone! To see how it can add interest and convenience to your banking, just check these facts.

1. Transfer to convenience with interest.

Now your money can earn interest right up to the minute you need it. A quick phone call to our special Bank-by-Phone number and you can transfer the amount you need from savings to checking (minimum transfer $100) without leaving your home. Of course, you can use Bank-by-Phone to transfer money from your Regular Checking Account to your Statement Savings Account, too.

2. Save, check and earn.

All you have to do is have a Princeton Bank Regular Checking Account and a Princeton Bank Statement Savings Account.

Then you can keep most of your cash in your Statement Savings Account earning 5% interest. And there's another way you can save, too. Just keep a minimum balance of $1,000 in your savings account and your Regular Checking Account is free of all service charges.

3. How to get the convenience of checking with the interest of savings.

Once you have a Princeton Bank Regular Checking and Statement Savings Account, all you need to start banking by phone are the right numbers.

First you need a "Secret" access number known only by you and Princeton Bank. We call it a PIN or Personal Identification Number. It's a four digit number which you select and then use when you want to transfer money by phone.

Then all you need is the special Bank-by-Phone telephone number to start banking the convenient way.

4. We think you'll find real interest in our new Bank-by-Phone service.

Start banking the easy way. Bank-by-Phone. Just visit the Princeton Bank office nearest you and if you don't already have them, open a Princeton Bank Regular Checking Account and Statement Savings Account. I BET YOU DIDN'T KNOW

Here's a tough football question ... Just about everybody can name the four main ways to score in football—touchdown, extra point, safety and field goal—but, what's the fifth way you can score? ... Not many people can answer that ... There's a little-known rule that says you can score by what's called an "unfair play" — and that can happen if, say, a player is running down the field and a player from the other team jumps off the bench, runs on the field and tackles the ball carrier ... The referee can award a score in that situation if, in his opinion, the ball carrier might have scored, even though he actually did not.

Did you know there have been three games in college football history when one team scored over 200 points! ... Those games were Georgia Tech 222, Cumberland O in 1916 ... St. Viator of Illinois 205, Lane College of Illinois O in 1916 ... And, King College of Tennessee 206, Lenoir-Rhyne of North Carolina O in 1922.

There are only two teams in the National Football League who've made the playoffs EVERY year in the last five seasons ... The only teams that have done it are Pittsburgh and Oakland.

If you have a fire loss, you must substantiate your claim — pictures of all your rooms, silverware and jewelry would prove very helpful.

Hopes for .500 Season Now Wholly Unrealistic As Princeton Football Team Heads for Harvard

A football team with a 1-4 record is quite likely to have a 1-5 record after going on the road to face an opponent which suddenly has visions of a league championship thought to be beyond its reach when the season began.

Princeton will travel to Cambridge, Mass., this weekend to play Harvard, sky-high after its upset of Dartmouth and now the only unbeaten entry in the annual Ivy derby. Having failed to win against any of the four good teams they have played so far, the Tigers will be the underdogs again on Saturday.

Day after Princeton had topped Columbia to end its eight-game losing streak, it appeared that the Orange and Black might take the field at Cambridge on almost even terms with Harvard. After its only experienced quarterback, Tim Davenport, had been lost for the season with a fractured bone in his neck, the Crimson was trounced by Massachusetts and Colgate and had its problems before disposing of winless Cornell at Ithaca.

So punchless was the complex running game

FINE GRAB: Rich Keefe, starting his first game as split end, latched onto this pass in final period of Colgate game Saturday. The 27-yard gain put the ball on the visitors' 3, settling up second Princeton touchdown in 31-13 defeat. Reception was one of six he made on passes thrown by sophomore quarterback Ken Barrett.

devised by Coach Joe Restic with three inexperienced quarterbacks trying to take charge that Harvard had frequently resorted to the shotgun, devised almost solely for aerial warfare. When 57 passes were thrown in the one-sided loss to Colgate, a new entry was written into the Harvard record book.

Dartmouth Defense Riddled. It was typical of the wholly unpredictable quality of Ivy League football that Dartmouth, which had shut out Yale, was picked apart by Harvard Saturday for 31 points. Most of the yardage (277) was gained on the ground but the passing game added 124 on a 7-for-13 day and any such repetition this weekend will mean more points than the struggling Tigers are likely to produce.

Larry Brown, a junior who saw his first varsity action after Davenport's injury, will be the starting quarterback. Sophomore Brian Buckley pulls the trigger on the shotgun if the ground game doesn't work.

Jon Sigillito, Chris Doherty and Ralph Polillio are the Crimson's principal ball carriers. Another major offensive threat is split end Jim Curry, the principal receiver and a good punter. On defense, the front four returned intact,

QUICK LOOK AT HARVARD

OFFENSE: Appears to have found proper balance against Dartmouth after overcoming loss of senior quarterback Tim Davenport. Joe Restic has most imaginative approach to moving the ball of any coach in Ivy League.

DEFENSE: Has yielded nearly 20 points a game and would be vulnerable if Princeton could provide an adequate threat.

CHIEF ASSET: Standing atop Ivy ladder quite unexpectedly in mid-season will provide a major incentive to continue winning CHIEF PROBLEM: Question as to whether inexperienced quarterbacks can keep team rolling.

with the weakness created by an entirely rebuilt secondary.

Restic's multiflex offense has its critics and as well as its followers, their volubility depending on the degree of success his teams achieve. Operating from a wide variety of sets, Harvard's quarterbacks have a seemingly endless number of options, with the amount of doubt instilled in the defense dependent on the extent that execution is skillful.

A Thriller in 1975. A new quarterback can be lost in the maze. Two years ago, Princeton took advantage of an injury that sidelined Jim Kubacki to hold the Crimson scoreless while rolling up 24 points. Then Davenport came on in the fourth quarter, but threw little more than a series of deep passes against a sieve-like prevent defense the Tigers concocted. A last-minute fumble recovery kept the Orange and Black on top, 24-20.

The 1977 Tigers will go into Harvard Stadium with hopes, but no overwhelming logic, that their offense will do the job. Senior quarterback Kirby Lockhart, who has beaten Columbia but nobody else in his two-year career as a starter, will be the choice if he has recovered from the mild concussion that benched him in the first period of the Colgate game.

His successor, sophomore Ken Barrett, has the statistics but not the coach's confidence. After taking over for Lockhart, Barrett connected on 10 of 17 passes for 139 yards and set up two touchdowns. In three-quarters of a game, his total yardage was nearly equal to that credited to Lockhart in three complete games, and he can hit a banked Palmer Stadium in Saturday's sunshine saw the first team there that is likely to win the Lambert Trophy since Dartmouth completed a 9-for-9 season in 1965 with a 28-14 triumph over the Tigers and was subsequently named the top team in the East. Romping to a 31-13 victory over Princeton, Colgate took charge in a manner that the best of Charlie Caldwell's team used to — it was no contest from midway in the opening period. By winning, the visitors left the field Saturday as one of the four remaining unbeaten teams in the nation.

Two major mistakes on the losers' part paved the way to the Red Raiders' ability to post 14 points on the board in less than six minutes. When halfback Henry White took the opening kickoff on his 2, it was apparent as he reached his own 30 that he might well go all the way — so thoroughly had Princeton been victimized by Colgate blocks. He did, running 98 yards on an indirect course in a football uniform in just 12 seconds — time that any well-regarded track man would rate as highly impressive.

Less than a minute later, Princeton tried a halfback pass by Bobby Isom. Passes that wobble slowly through the air are known as "wounded ducks;" this one was a dead duck as Colgate safety Tom McGarrity picked it off easily on the home team 42. Ten plays later, it was 14-0 and the only remaining question with almost 55 minutes left was how big the final margin would be.

If Colgate's first-quarter advantage had stood up, it would have been 80 to 0; if the victors' had duplicated their first-half effort, it would have been 56-0. Eventually, a Princeton team that never quits no matter how adverse the going held the winners to a lone field goal in the final half, while Barrett staged a frequently skillful aerial show that was worth 13 points.

The first was set in motion when linebacker Bob Ehrlich snared a Colgate pass on his 39. Barrett took the Tigers 61 yards in nine plays, Isom hitting right guard for the TD from three yards out.

The second march was achieved largely through the air and required only five plays, with the clincher a 27-yard pitch to split end Rich Keefe on the Colgate 3. Tailback Fred Rosenberg went in for the score.

Keefe grabbed six of Barrett's passes, almost all of them in spectacular fashion. On such a performance, he may retain the starting assignment, with Glenn Robinson continuing as the slot back. Two sophomores, Dave Chandler and Vince Battaglia, had been playing there but Chandler has been lost for the season with a fractured collarbone and Battaglia may have trouble getting back into the lineup when he recovers from a kidney injury.

As matters stand now, another 2-7 record is the Tigers' likely fate if viewed on the basis that they are currently favored only to beat Cornell. Penn, their opponent after Harvard, has topped them with rather mediocre teams for the past five years, and the Quakers at the 35-yard line. There on fourth moment are 3-2 and somewhat stronger than had been thought likely.

Both Harvard and Yale (the next home game on November 5) appear out of reach, if only because Princeton football almost invariably lacks the necessary spark to fire an upset. The Tigers' hope lies in the fact that no team among where everybody does How's Your Memory?

If you have watched Princeton football for a quarter-century or more, test your memory against this one: Colgate's Henry White ran the opening kickoff back for a touchdown against Princeton Saturday — when was the last time a visiting team did that in Palmer Stadium?

Bill Stryker, Princeton's computerized Director of Athletic Relations, pushed the right memory button instantly. "Harvard did it to us in November, 1952," he said. "Two plays later, Homer Smith ran off tackle for 73 yards into the end zone, and with just over a minute gone, the score was 7 to 6. It sure taught people a lesson about being late for a game."

White ran a subsequent kickoff back for 44 yards, very nearly breaking that one, too, but when he lined up deep a third time, Princeton foiled him completely. Chris Howe's dribble kick shot squarely into the arms of Paul Converse at midfield and the Tigers recovered their own kickoff.

the Ivies this fall is a really good one in the tradition of the best of Dartmouth, Yale and Princeton in the past.

PDS TO FACE WARDLAW

After Loss to Peddie. It's not encouraging to have the biggest game of your season directly ahead of you with a 38-0 loss right behind, but that's the situation faced by the Princeton Day football team as it prepares for the showdown this Saturday against Wardlaw away.

Nobody expected the Panthers to be able to bring home a victory against Peddie this past Saturday, but nobody expected the total breakdown in all departments either. That, perhaps, was the problem. If you're not expected to do much, you do even less. Football is not the kind of game you can let up on.

The Blue and White will have no lack of incentive this Saturday, meeting Wardlaw in the game that will decide the champion of the first-year New Jersey Prep League. Wardlaw is 2-0, and PDS 2-0-1, and the winner here will have no problem winning in remaining league contests.

"There shouldn't be any surprises in this one," commented PDS coach Rob Hoffman. "We know what they can do and they know what we can do, and the team that does it better will win. We can beat them."

Princeton Day should be 100 percent healthy for the first time in a while. Neither Dave Barondess or Randy Shelton played last week, but both should be back this Saturday. Chris Price, who did not play much against Pennington, ran well against Peddie.

Price's running was about the only bright spot for the Panthers, who did not show much either offensively or defensively. Stopped on three downs the first time it had the ball, PDS then let Peddie go 65 yards for its first touchdown and a 6-0 lead.

The second time it got the ball the Blue and White was able to retain control and marched down to the Peddie 35-yard line. There on fourth moment are 3-2 and somewhat stronger than had been thought likely.

It swept to another first period score, one more in the second after an interception of the other 19 points after the necessary spark to fire an

"It was one of those days where everybody does everything wrong," Hoffman observed.

HUN STILL LOOKING

For First Football Victory. Halfway through its eight-game season, the Hun School football team is still looking for its first win, following a 14-3 loss last week to visiting Blair.

The struggle by the Red and Black squad to nail down that first one will find no respite this week, as Hun must travel to Morristown to take on always strong Delbarton. In its last start, Delbarton routed Newark Academy, 40-0.

"The kids played well for the second week in a row; we just can't get a win," commented Hun coach Dave Leete on the loss to Blair, which, like Delbarton, is undefeated in the N.J. Independent School A league.

Hun held the lead briefly when Fred Wollman kicked a 40-yard field goal in the second period (Leete said it was probably a school record) but Blair came back in the same period to take a 7-3 lead on a 10-yard scoring pass. Blair (3-1) added another TD in the third period.

"It was pretty even. A couple of breaks and it could have gone our way," said Leete. Brian Lee caught four passes from quarterback E.T. Roach for 94 yards and Matt Roach excelled for Hun on defense from his linebacker position. Veteran center Sal Ammirata and fullback Pete Black missed the game with injuries.

Has the 0-4 start left the team discouraged? "Surprisingly not," replied Leete. "They have played well and they know it."

SUNDAY IS DATE

For International Soccer. International soccer will be played Sunday at noon on Princeton University's Bedford Field.

The Icelandic Airlines team from Reykjavik will oppose the Manufacturers Hanover Trust Company team from New York. The match will be followed by another between the Princeton Varsity "B" team and a team from the Landsbanki, Iceland.

These games are part of a home - and - home series, as Manufacturers Hanover team was invited to Iceland last April and played both the Icelandic Airlines team and the team from Landsbanki, Iceland's largest bank.

Two Princeton businesses — Princeton Bank and Trust Company and Landau — are especially interested in the games. PB&T is corresponding bank with Manufacturers Hanover in New York; Landau has been bringing Iceland to Princeton for six years by importing Icelandic woolens.

"WHEN I PROPOSED A 5-CYLINDER ENGINE FOR THE AUDI 5000, THEY SMILED."

AN INTERVIEW WITH FRANZ HAUKE, ENGINE DESIGNER

Was the big problem keeping the engine in balance?

Hauke: No, why? Because of the odd number? Nowhere is it written that an engine must have an even number of cylinders in order to be balanced. The plain fact is that engineers just automatically think in terms of 4, or 6, or 8, or 12. Our engine is balanced, I assure you. And it wasn't so difficult, really.

Were there any advantages to dropping a cylinder?

Hauke: I didn't drop a cylinder I wanted 5-cylinders from the start. But yes, there were several other advantages. For one thing, the shorter engine allowed for a lower look up front. A lower nose also has the advantage of cutting wind resistance and putting less strain on the engine. One less cylinder also means less weight and greater efficiency.

It's still awfully new, this engine.
How do you know the bugs are out of it?

Hauke: We tested 100 cars in the U.S. and Canada for so many months, we learned to order eggs "over easy." To my knowledge, no imported car manufacturer has ever done so much testing on such a large scale before. It was the only way we could truly know how the engine and the entire car perform under all your driving and weather conditions.

Why would American drivers spend $8,500* for the Audi 5000?

Hauke: Well, not all American drivers would. But we feel sure that there are enough Americans who have come to know craftsmanship, fine machinery and clean design when they see it. They will also recognize that the Audi 5000 is the largest German car for the money. Yet, for all its size, it is surprisingly lively. Also, there's the room and comfort and quiet that Americans traditionally appreciate.

cylinder engine?

Hauke: Our new model, being larger, requires more power than a 4. Also, we wanted a very quiet car. But I felt it unnecessary to resort to the extreme of a 6. So everything pointed to a 5.

Its Offense Still Shaky, PHS Faces W. Windsor Saturday after Losing 21-6 to Hightstown High

In the wake of last week's 21-6 loss to Hightstown, the following thoughts must be going through the mind of Princeton High football coach Jim Beachell, as his team prepares for Saturday's game with West Windsor.

West Windsor has emerged as a dark horse in the Colonial Valley Conference, holding favored Notre Dame to a 7-7 tie in its last start. The Pirates, 2-1-1, will play host to the Little Tigers on Saturday with a 2 p.m. kickoff.

The PHS offense is still sputtering. It's lone touchdown against Hightstown was only its fourth in four games. The PHS defense, which has been steady even glittering at times, has suffered a breach with the loss for the season of Dave Miller. The hard-hitting Miller, an all conference defensive back last year as a junior, was the glue that held the PHS secondary together.

If PHS hopes to repeat as league champions--they shared the first CVC crown last year with Notre Dame--

PHS "D" IN ACTION: Peter Gorman (64) and Keith Wadsworth (on the ground) stop Hightstown's Larry Cuoghi for a short gain in the first period. Coming up to make sure are John Morris (76), Karim El-Mellgi (70) and Kieran Eposito (13). The undefeated Rams wore down the Little Tigers, however, and won 21-6.

they must stop West Windsor and win the next three, in addition, (all league contests) while at the same time hoping someone will upset Hightstown. And a Hightstown upset isn't likely. The undefeated Rams are ranked sixth among all Delaware Valley area teams and are the only Mercer County team in the top ten.

In a sense, Beachell and the Little Tigers have their backs to the wall. They were in the same position this time last year and responded by winning five of their next six.

They are in a must win situation from here on. Beachell acknowledged as much by saying, "We've got to go out and take the next five."

Not Surprised by WW. Was Beachell surprised by West Windsor's performance against Notre Dame? "Not really," he replied.

"I thought they would be in it from the beginning. I said they would be the dark horse. It had to come. Their midget football program is coming along; it was just a matter of time."

The Pirate offense is led by Ron Dilatash and speedster Chris Gillette. PHS won last year, 16-6, on a pair of touchdowns by Keith Wadsworth.

Rams Too Big. "Too much weight. They were too big for us. We played good defense but not good enough," said Beachell after the Hightstown game.

Three first-half fumbles cost PHS dearly--two leading to Ram scores and the other denying PHS a probable touchdown--and the field was slippery. But Beachell wasn't buying much of it. "No excuses," he said. "We just didn't move the ball well."

The outcome of the game was decided during the last four minutes of the first half. Until then, PHS had dominated the play.

It missed a great opportunity to score early when Chris Cahill blocked the Rams' first punt and PHS recovered on the three. Two plays into the middle of the line netted nothing. On the next, the ball sprung loose and Hightstown recovered.

With four minutes to go in the half, Barry Turner returned a Ram punt to the PHS 27. PHS got ready to try once again to get its offense going against the sputtering visitors. Then disaster.

On the way to a nice gain, Bobby Campbell was hit hard, fumbled and the Rams recovered on the 24. Four plays later, Dale Cook scored from 10 yards out. Quarterback Steve Lajoie was stopped short trying to run the two-point conversion.

Again, PHS ran the following kickoff back to the 27 and again on the first play from scrimmage, PHS fumbled. This time quarterback Tommy Seiler lost the handle and Hightstown recovered on the 18.

A Lajoie pass to Mark Clements carried to the four. On the next play there was a

Weather Was Good and So Was The Paddle At 2nd Annual Mixed Championships Here

With no more obvious explanation readily available, it appears that members of the Princeton Invitational Mixed Platform Tennis Tournament committee must be a clean-living, church-going group.

How else do you explain the absolutely perfect weekend weather, for the two-day event, affectionately known as the "Pimp" Tournament. It broke a string of four consecutive weekends plagued by rain on one or both days, and helped produce some excellent paddle tennis.

Sixty couples from New Jersey, Pennsylvania, New York, Connecticut and Vermont competed in the second annual APTA-sanctioned tourney, with the eventual winners a mild surprise, but only because they were not as well known as some of the other top teams.

Seeded sixth, Greg Brents, an instructor at the Apple Platform Tennis Club in New York City and Wendy Chase of Greenwich, Conn. swept through the strong field without losing a set.

Brents, a relative unknown in paddle circles, should have no trouble making a name for himself on the men's tour, if he gets a partner of equal ability. Ms. Chase is already highly ranked in women's paddle and the two presented a nicely balanced team.

Matched in the Sunday afternoon finals against Hank Irvine, currently ranked number one in the country with Herb Fitzgibbon, and his partner Nancy Mangan, also ranked, Chase and Brents were clearly the superior team in the 6-1, 6-4 final. Serving at 4-5 in the second set, Irvine had a chance to even things, but could not hold his serve.

Earlier in the day, Irvine and Mangan had been extended to three sets in the semi-finals, before finally defeating Jim McCready of Manhattan Platform Tennis Club and Linda Wolf of Fighting Creek Club. Brents and Chase had little trouble topping last year's champions Gerry Mould of Bedens Brook and B.J. DeBree of Seabright, 6-1, 6-2.

The first consolation was won by Sandy Halsey and Mary Lou Strong of Seabright, 7-5, 6-2, over Joan Packer of New Caanan and Lanny Openshaw of Norwalk, Conn. Mary Sullivan, a non-resident Bedens Brook member and Dick Wright defeated Rick Harrison of Summit and Debbie Cave of Beacon Hill, 6-1, 6-3, to capture the second consolation.

More than 100 matches were played on fifteen courts made available by clubs and private owners and Princeton Community Park. A dinner dance was held Saturday night at Bedens Brook with entertainment provided by the Boudinotes and the Castle Browne Band.

pile up in the middle, and the ball squirted loose. Ram guard Tom McNicholas covered the ball in the end zone and when Lajoie went over on a keeper around left end on the conversion attempt, Hightstown led, 14-0.

Stung by the quick turn of events, PHS responded with its only scoring thrust of the game. Kieran Esposito caught the return kickoff around his own 25 and raced down the sidelines to the Ram 25. Forty-two seconds were left on the clock. Seiler used up 27 of them trying to pass, but he was forced to run and he ended up losing eight yards.

On the next play, he looked one way, turned to the other and threw a screen pass to his fullback, Keith Wadsworth. The 190-lb. Wadsworth, using his blockers well, threaded his way into the end zone. There was one second left when he crossed the goal line. Seiler's attempted kick was wide.

In the second half, PHS tried unsuccessfully to open up its attack. "You have to when you have a 240 lb. middle guard, a 230 lb. tackle and a 210 lb. end," said Beachell. We were outmanned in the line. We just couldn't move it."

Late in the game, Hightstown capped a 24-yard drive, when on fourth down and needing seven, with 13 seconds left, Lajoie scored on a fake field goal attempt, taking it in untouched.

Miller had been hurt with 3:42 left to play when he was clipped in a pileup. He was operated on Sunday morning for a torn ligament in his left knee. The operation was a success but Miller, a top college prospect in Beachell's view, will be out for the season.

"It's a shame," he said. "It's the first time we've had anyone injured like that in a long time."

Tony Intartaglia is the probable replacement for Miller together with John Forrey. Wadsworth was banged up on the last play of the game but he will be ready to go against West Windsor.

After the game, Ram coach Don Colhert congratulated Beachell on the fine defense mounted by the Little Tigers. Members of that defensive unit are Chris Cahill, Jordan Paul, Dean Boyer, Karim El-Meligi, Peter Gorman, Chris MacDonald, Keith Wadsworth, Bob Campbell, Kieran Esposito, Barry Turney and Dave Miller.

PHS CLINCHES BERTH

In State Playoffs. Despite a 4-3 loss to visiting Notre Dame Thursday — its third in ten games — the Princeton High School soccer team clinched a berth in the annual NJSIAA state playoffs when it battled Lawrence High School to a scoreless tie earlier in the week.

The Little Tigers' overall record is now 6-3-1 and 4-1-1 in the Colonial Valley Conference, where it is tied with Notre Dame and St. Anthony's for first place.

PHS has entered the second half of its season and will play all its conference foes again. Of the remaining six contests, all but Ewing are league games.

The Blue and White will host West Windsor Thursday and Hightstown on Monday — both earlier victims. Both contests will be played at the Valley Road School field, West Windsor starting at 3:45 and Hightstown at 3:30.

After putting together a six-game winning string, PHS was held to a tie by Lawrence, which had won only one game previously and then lost to the Irish, which entered the game ranked 14th in the state.

Were the Little Tigers starting to feel the pressure of being a team to which others are pointing — an unfamiliar situation for the Blue and White?

"No, I don't think the kids are feeling any pressure. We played as well as we can play," commented PHS coach Ed Beacham after the Notre Dame game.

Schulman Scores First. Actually, it was either team's game, until the final period when it was still tied at 1. Joel Schulman had given PHS the lead with a goal at 11:45 into the first period but the Irish tied it at the 6:17 mark in the second period when Mike McQuade scored against an open net.

Then with 14:23 left to play, the Irish made three quick goals to go up, 4-1.

PHS had narrowed the score when Pat Gautier scored on a feed from Ron Celestin with three minutes to go. With a minute left, Celestin cut it to one, as he headed in a direct kick by Dave Wilson. It was Celestin's 11th goal.

PHS and Lawrence, earlier in the week, battled through four periods and two overtimes but neither was able to score.

PHS goalie Sandy Howell, who had to sit out the second half with an ankle injury, and his replacement, Johnny Miller, had 21 saves. A left winger, Miller's only previous experience in the net had been 10 minutes' worth in an earlier contest. Beacham said later that he believed the change "subconsciously" caused his team to concentrate more on playing defense.

Lawrence goalie Chris Carpenter had 15 saves. The

ON TO FRANKLIN FIELD: Michael Hunninghake 8 (left) and Keith Colavita, 9, receive congratulations from George Conover, president of Nassau-Conover Motor Company, for winning the Punt, Pass & Kick zone competition last week in Mount Holly. Michael and Keith will compete against six other zone winners this week at Franklin Field on the University of Pennsylvania campus in Philadelphia. The PP&K competition is sponsored by the Ford Dealers of America and the National Football League.

Cardinals had the edge in shots on goal, 32-24.

PINGRY TIES PDS

In Soccer. A defensive-minded Pingry squad has become the first to put a blot on the otherwise perfect record of the Princeton Day soccer team, but that blot is just a tie not a loss. Two-thirds of their way through the season the Panthers are now 8-0-1, with six games left to play.

Coach Tom DeVito has no regrets about last Wednesday's contest, well played by both sides. Pingry, which also managed to tie the Blue and White last year, 1-1, employs a kick and run type of game within a 3-3-4 alignment. This means it isn't going to give up many goals, but it isn't going to score many either. PDS outshot the visitors 17-5.

The following Saturday, the PDS offense was back in gear, scoring a 4-1 decision over Peddie. Jay Nusblatt scored twice, Chris Bundy and David McCord once as the Panthers took a 4-0 lead into the fourth quarter. However, hopes for the sixth shutout of the season were foiled because of a defensive lapse of a substitute goalie.

The Blue and White will play Montgomery this Wednesday and then two division games against Wardlaw and Rutgers Prep. Victories in the latter two will assure PDS of being the first seed in the post-season tournament. The seeding committee, of which DeVito is a member, meets Oct. 27.

Also coming up is probably the game the Panthers want most this year, a November 2 contest against Lawrenceville. PDS has never beaten the Larries on the soccer field.

INDOOR TENNIS SET

Will Start Monday. The first session of winter indoor tennis classes of the Princeton Community Tennis Program will begin Monday and run through December 18.

Dates for the second session are Jan. 9 - Feb. 19, and for the third, Feb. 10 - April 2. Registration for these sessions is now in progress.

HUN BOOTERS FALL

To Blair. "We just have a problem of getting the ball in the other team's goal.

"It's a problem for many teams," added Hun soccer coach Jack Huckel last week, as he watched his team bow to Blair, 4-2, for its seventh setback in nine games. Hun has won one and tied one.

In all those losses, the margin of defeat for Hun has never exceeded two goals. "That's been our story," said Huckel. "We may not always have the upper hand but we haven't been out of any game, either."

Despite the loss, Hun still has a chance to finish with a good record in the Penn-Jersey League—provided it can get its offense untracked. "It's a unique situation. It's really a whole new season for us," said Huckel. Hun's league mark is 0-0-1.

Hun will be at George School Wednesday and play host to Pennington Friday in two important league games this week.

In the Blair contest, there were five penalty kicks. Hun's John Muscente converted two to give Hun a 2-1 halftime lead. Unfortunately, he also missed two.

"We played very well in terms of controlling the ball in their end," commented Huckel. But Blair, he added, had a swift, fast-breaking team. Twice the victors caught the Hun halfbacks up and managed to go downfield and score.

WW ELEVEN GAINS TIE

Entertains PHS Next. The stock of the West Windsor football team went up a notch last week when it battled Notre Dame to a 7-7 tie.

The Pirates with a 1-0-1 record in the Colonial Valley Conference will try to keep their league record in the loss column unsullied Saturday when they play host to rival Princeton High School at 1:30. WW has never defeated the Little Tigers.

Against Notre Dame, West Windsor grabbed a 7-0 lead when quarterback Bill Schwing passed six yards to Joe Davis. Mark Birnbaum added the PAT. The Irish scored in the third period on a 25-yard scamper by Bill Perna and tied it when Flip Faherty kicked the extra point.

IT'S A LOVE-LY GAME

For PHS Net Squad. The Princeton High School girls tennis team ran its record to 8-0 last week with a 5-0 victory over Lawrence High.

Vicki Phillips, Diane Aronovic and Beth Ellis all won singles matches, while Debbie Blair and Julia Heeg and Lisa and Sarah Merians triumphed in doubles play. The Little Tigers have now defeated every team in the Colonial Valley Conference at least once.

Next, Coach Bill Humes' team will oppose West Windsor on Thursday and Hightstown on Monday. Both will be at home.
